On primary ballot

Charter changes simplify government

The Romulus City Council and mayor are in unanimous favor of the six proposed amendments to the city's charter, which will be placed in the hands of Romulus voters in Tuesday's primary election.

The propositions deal chiefly with competitive bidding regulations in the present charter, plus a proposal to amend restrictions surrounding salary determination of city hall secretaries. Another amendment would allow the mayor more time in submitting a budget.

Two other charter amendment proposals earlier anticipated for placement on Tuesday's ballot were defeated by the city council, including a proposal to lengthen the terms of office of several city officials.

HERE ARE THE propositions as they

'The charter has needed revision for quite sometime... For the efficient operation of the city, it is necessary that these be passed...'

basically will be worded on the ballot, and comments about them by city officials:

PROPOSITION A

"Shall the charter of the City of Romulus be amended to shorten the time the budget is on file with the city clerk prior to public hearing, and change the time of submission and adoption of the budget to enable the budget to be adopted 30 days before the expiration of the fiscal year rather than 45 days before?"

According to Troutt, the charter currently instructs the mayor to submit a budget to the council "before he knows what the tax roll or base is going to be."

"That almost is an impossible thing to do," he said. "That needs changing very badly."

The new proposal will postpone the date and time the mayor has to submit the budget by."

COUNCILMAN JAMES Stewart also supports the proposal, and said: "Under the current charter, the mayor can't approve the budget without knowing what the city is going to pay employees."

City Treasurer John B. Lewkowicz said the "proposal will enable the mayor to have more time to prepare and consult with the various city departments prior to budget approval."

PROPOSITION B

"Shall the charter be amended to set the salaries of the administrative secretaries to the mayor, clerk and treasurer at the average of that position of only those cities in Wayne County with full-time elected officials?"

Troutt said: "The charter should set the salaries so the secretaries cannot be overpaid by an official who may like her particularly, or at the same time so she cannot have her salary cut for just any reason."

County may work on runway despite federal court warning

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

Detroit Metropolitan Airport officials plan to continue the expansion of a runway at the facility despite a federal court warning that any construction done will be "at their own peril."

Allen Snyder, an attorney in the Washington, D.C., law firm of Hogan and Hartson, which is representing the airport, Wayne County and the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) in a court battle against several Romulus parties, yesterday said he anticipates the construction will continue.

"My understanding is that the airport is going to go ahead with the construction," he explained. Snyder, however, declined any other comment.

A RESTRAINING order sought by California attorney Jerrold A. Fadem to halt the construction was temporarily delayed by U.S. District Court Judge Phillip Pratt last Thursday.

Fadem is representing the City of Romulus, Romulus Community School District and homeowner Fouad Berry in a fight against further expansion of the airport.

In a sudden turn of events at the hearing, attorneys for the county and WCRC dismissal of the Romulus case on the grounds that the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) was not named as a defendant; one governmental agency, the city of Romulus, cannot sue another governmental agency, (Wayne County), and no harm ever has been done to the people in the Romulus area by the airport.

Pratt decided not to make a ruling on either side and set a hearing for Aug. 19 at 9 a.m. in federal court.

THE HEARING probably will be before Judge Cornelia

G. Kennedy, who originally had drawn the case, but suffered a broken leg in a vacationing accident three weeks ago. Judge Kennedy is expected to be back by that date to preside over the hearing in which the county's motion to dismiss the Romulus case will be decided.

Pratt instructed the county that it could proceed with the runway construction if, it so desired, but that the building could not be used to date progress as leverage in convincing the court that it must finish the job, if the injunction is granted.

"The court told the county that it could build, but at its own peril," said Timothy Downs of the Southfield law firm of Munger and Crum, which is assisting Fadem.

"But if they do go ahead and build, and the Romulus injunction is granted, the county cannot come in and say it has put too much money into the project to stop," he explained.

"It just might be a waste of money, if they start building it. The county would be running a great risk with the public's money. It would be like playing a giant-sized, crap-shoot with the taxpayers' money."

FADEM added that he is not concerned with the county's request for dismissal.

"This side is not concerned about any of the points the county has made to gain dismissal of the case, because I believe our case is very strong," he said.

The airport reportedly is going to begin clearing the runway area of overgrowth and ready the surface for paving.

Romulus eyes damage in airport's expansion

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

In a 39-page report sent to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) this week, Romulus Mayor Terry L. Troutt outlined alleged financial losses incurred by the city and its residents from continued expansion of Detroit Metropolitan Airport, and affixed a $7,659,900 figure on those losses.

The report - a history of Romulus' associations with the airport and its governing body, the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC), and documents from city officials, describing alleged financial losses suffered by their various departments - was sent to the FAA as a preliminary move to the city's filing for $7,659,900 in damages from the WCRC and Wayne County.

The damage suit will be a separate action from the present court battle between the county and three Romulus plaintiffs over runway expansion at the airport.

THE CASE, awaiting an Aug. 19 hearing in federal court in Detroit, involves a restraining order being sought against runway construction by the City of Romulus, Romulus Community School District and homeowner Fouad Berry. No damages are being sought in the injunction lawsuit.

The report sent by Troutt to William V. Vitale, deputy director of Airports Services of the FAA, seeks the federal agency's assistance in curbing the airport's expansion by cutting off federal funds to the WCRC for the project.

"I am requesting that you review the enclosed material and the damages done to the city, its schools and inhabitants, before any further funds are distributed to the WCRC for airport expansion, and assist the city in its endeavor to be reimbursed for damages incurred in the past and to be incurred by future expansion of the airport," Troutt told Vitale in the report.

He added that the city would file suit in court against the WCRC, if the FAA was not able to assist Romulus in collecting the $7 million in damages.

THE ALLEGED TOTAL loss figure of $7,659,900 is broken down in the report to $5,576,850 for debt service loss from 4,131 dwelling unit sites already taken by the airport; and $3,083,050 in losses on 464 dwelling unit sites in an area proposed to be taken by the airport.

The figures were compiled by City Engineer Edwin M. Orr.

Troutt's report outlined his claims of city and homeowner loss in the categories of schools, roads, water, sewers, drains, property values and relocation of people.

The FAA is expected to enter into an investigation of the WCRC's airport dealings upon receipt of Troutt's report.

"I AM SURE the City of Romulus should not take the total burden of supplying land to the nation, State of Michigan and Windsor, Ont. for a major airport," the mayor said.

"I believe that the people of this community should be compensated for the total loss incurred for roads, drains, water, sewers, schools, property loss values and the cost of operating the police and fire departments."

Airport heads up list of candidates' issues

By DALE GOWING
Of The Roman Staff

The Detroit Metropolitan Airport controversy, mass transportation and solid waste disposal are playing leading roles in campaigns of the three Democrats, seeking their party's nomination as a Wayne County Commissioner in the 27th district Tuesday.

A fourth issue, dealing with threatened Wayne County Sheriff's Department patrol cuts in the townships, also is prominent in the district, which includes Romulus, Huron Township, Taylor, Flat Rock and Rockwood.

Edgar L. Harris, the current commissioner, is going up against Mitchell Moran and Richard J. Trolley — all from Taylor — in the primary election.

"I'VE BEEN searching every avenue I can to help the people who are affected by the airport," Harris said. "I always have urged people to let me know what their ideas are, so that I can try to do something about it."

On the inside

With spiraling interest rates, prospective home buyers need all the help they can get. This week's Home and Garden pages offer a few helpful hints on what to look for when home hunting.

International visitors and returning Western Wayne County residents will find their surroundings have a worldwide flavor as Detroit Metropolitan Airport unveiled its new terminal. See story on Page A-18.

The resident versus the airport has been a long-standing issue in the district, and has boiled to the surface recently with the lawsuit by several Romulus parties.

Moran agreed the airport is a problem, but said the solution is to get the airport and local residents to "work together" to solve their differences.

And taking a different approach, Trolley said a solution to airport noise and pollution problems could be relieved by changing the structure of the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC), which governs the airport.

"THE PROBLEM is that the WCRC is not responsible directly to the voters," Trolley said. "I think the airport authority should be elected officials and businessmen

In armed services

Residents plan travel

The slogan of "See the World" proved to be an attractive offer for several Belleville-Romulus residents, who have enlisted in the military service.

Taking time out from civilian life for a taste of Army, Navy or Air Force cooking are:

Army Pvt. James D. Steward, 18, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Steward of 1134 Morton Taylor Rd., Belleville, completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Knox, Ky.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and army history and traditions.

Coast Guard Seaman Appren. Lou A. Mutschler, the son of Mary Mutschler of 50333 Willis Rd., Belleville, graduated from basic training at the Coast Guard Training Center at Cape May, N.J.

During his 10 weeks of training, Seaman Appren. Mutschler received instruction in seamanship, close order drill, damage control, first aid, marksmanship and military regulations.

He will assume either further training or a position aboard a Coast Guard cutter.

LOU A. MUTSCHLER

Army Major Gerald R. Sullivan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Sullivan of 36970 Sibley Rd., New Boston, was graduated from the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Maj. Sullivan's wife, Jacqueline, was with him at Ft. Leavenworth.

Coed earns award

Romulus Senior High School graduate Terri Houle has been named the recipient of a memorial scholarship, established by the school's graduating class in honor of a former classmate.

The $500 award was established in honor of Terry Clark, who died a year ago in an automobile accident. He would have been a member of the 1974 graduate class.

Miss Houle, who lives at 30563 Redwood Lane, will be attending Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

Students graduate at MSU

Seven Western Wayne County residents were degree candidates at Michigan State University's (MSU) spring term commencement exercises held in MSU's Spartan Stadium in Lansing.

Bachelors degree candidates included:

Vicki L. Palmer of 128 Clarence St.; Darlene L. Clark of 203 W. Columbia Ave.; Bonnie L. Rye of 50333 Willis Rd.; Cathy A. Stabnow of 12054 Belleville Rd.; Douglas L. Eye of 48705 Bemis Rd. and Linda L. Johnson of 3275 Sheldon. Delores L. Perdue of 42015 Expressway, also of Belleville, was a candidate for a masters degree.

FOR HIS TRANSPORTATION — One of the birthday surprises for Alan R. Armitage, a Wayne disabled veteran, was the delivery of a new 1974 Ford station wagon through the assistance of the VA. Alan who turned 22 July 17, was injured permanently in a motorcycle car crash in December, 1972 while on a home furlough. He is paralyzed on his left side and lost his right foot as well as other injuries as the result of the accident. Alan and his mother, Freda Armitage, inspected the car before taking possession of the new car.

For building work

Romulus board seeks bids

The Romulus Board of Education is seeking sealed proposals for the construction of the school district's new Wick Elementary School to be located at 36900 Wick Rd.

The requested bid involves three phases in the construction of the one-story elementary school which will contain approximately 50,000 square feet of floor area.

The proposed work will utilize phased building and construction techniques, employing separate prime contractors for individual trades work, said School Board Secretary Ronald Christensen.

Bid proposals will be accepted up until 2 p.m. July 31 at the board of education offices, 36540 Grant Rd., Romulus.

Bidding documents are available at the office of the school's architect, Charles W.

Sherman Associates Inc. of Bloomfield Hills.

The board of education also is seeking bids on the sale of four frame buildings, located at 37144 Wick Rd., which are to be removed and or be demolished.

The buildings consists of a frame 2-story, 4-bedroom house; garage, granary and pump house.

Bids must be submitted to the board by 4:30 p.m. July 22.

Rotarians chose officers; Award annual scholarship

The annual installation banquet of Belleville Rotary Club's new officers featured Ladies Night and the presentation of scholarships to two Belleville area students.

The local Rotary club's new president is R. Lynne Hamilton of 43009 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville.

Hamilton, the owner and operator of the Hamilton Hardware Co., Belleville, is a member of the Van Buren Board of Education.

Other officers elected for the 1974-75 year are The Rev. Wilson Wood of 70 N. Biggs St., Belleville as vice president. Rev. Wood is the pastor of the United Presbyterian Church of Belleville.

RAYMOND KOHR of 47468 N. Shore Dr., Belleville, director of personnel for the Van Buren Public School District, was elected secretary, and Bernard Boyd of 13033 Edgedale Ave., Belleville, a local businessman, was named treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors was Ben R. Robertson of 48541 I-94 Expressway, Van Buren Township. He is the director of Van Buren Township's Community Development Committee and president of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce. Also serving on the board is Robert Baker of 139 Clarence St., Belleville, an electrical contractor.

The recipients of the annual $500 scholarship awards were Collette Pollard, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Pollard of 41435 Fret Rd., Belleville; and Jeff Gale, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gale of 1029 Studebaker St., Ypsilanti.

MISS POLLARD is a 1973 graduate of Belleville High School while Gale was a member of this year's graduating class at Belleville High School.

The proceeds from various community-wide programs, staged by Rotarians, were in financing the annual scholarships.

Romulus student attends medical school at U-M

A Romulus resident and student at Detroit's Mumford High School has hurdled the first major obstacle in the way of his pursuing a medical career, acceptance into medical school.

John G. Roundtree Jr. of 33950 Ecorse Rd., will enter the University of Michigan Medical School in September and study a pre-med curriculum.

Roundtree has enjoyed an unusual high school education career, highlighted by his participation in over two dozen service and professional organizations. Included were several medical clubs, one of which he founded and served as president.

Roundtree also produced a pilot television show for WKBD-TV entitled "Teen Talk."

He is a member of the Michigan Health Council, New Detroit Youth Caucus, Youth Involvement Task Force and several Mumford scholastic organizations.

He was the recipient of the Metropolitan Detroit Schoolmen's Club Scholar-

...ENSURES A POSITIVE FUTURE

1. Strong and complete law enforcement to protect and preserve our society with justice to all who appear before the court.
2. The establishment of an effective probation program to rehabilitate deserving offenders especially the YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS with DRUG PROBLEMS. Case workers will be recruited in a new program to be set up with related department of the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University. Senior students in departments such as Medicine psychology & sociology would receive credit for working in the probation program with the court. Offenders would benefit from professional help, while students could gain valuable supervised experience.
3. The establishment of a much needed NIGHT COURT. This would eliminate the present injustice of a double penalty when a person loses a day's wage to appear in court to pay a small fine for a misdemeanor.

Charter changes may simplify Romulus governmental rules

"The city is recommending this change to set the salaries to correspond with the other cities in the same area and population class," Lewkowicz added.

PROPOSITION C "Shall the charter be amended to require competitive bidding for the city purchases in excess of $1,500.00 rather than $750.00?"

The complaint against the current charter is that unnecessary time is taken when bids have to be advertised to purchase many items.

"THE BIGGEST complaint the city gets each week is about weeds," Troutt said. "It wants to mow the weeds and it has the equipment, but when it breaks down and needs a part that costs $850, for example, it can't buy it right away because the limit is $750."

"The city has to advertise for bids and draw up the guidelines and that takes time. The new proposal still would require council approval, but it would save time particularly on not having to advertise for bids on every little thing."

According to Lewkowicz, because of "the inflationary spiral in today's economy, the current $750.00 ceiling is outdated."

PROPOSITION D "Shall the charter be amended to allow purchases without competitive bids, if the mayor determines that only one source of supply exists for the item to be purchased?"

"THE PRESENT charter ruling on this wastes time and advertising money in taking bids on something only one company makes," Troutt said. "The council still would approve purchases under the amendment."

PROPOSITION E "Shall the charter be amended to allow the mayor to enter into contracts and make purchases necessitated by emergencies endangering life, property or causing undue hardship without advertising for bids and without the approval of council?"

Basically, the amendment would allow the mayor to make an emergency purchase of a quickly-needed item, such as a part for a snowplow to clear snow in an emergency, when it would not be feasible to call a session of the city council and advertise for bids.

However, any purchases or contracts would be subject to council approval.

ACCORDING TO

Lewkowicz, the proposal covers emergencies "which the commission did not consider in the original charter, such as weather conditions, main breaks and other acts of God."

PROPOSITION F "Shall the charter be amended to allow the city to enter into cooperative purchases with other governmental units without having to follow the city's own bidding requirements?"

Troutt maintains the amendment would enable the city to save money for two reasons.

"I don't think the city could get a bid lower than the State's price on an item," he said. "Currently there are too many hands in a purchasing deal — the wholesaler, retailer and dealer."

THE AMENDMENT would allow the city, for instance, to purchase a supply of pencils from the state at a much lower price than it could receive through bidding.

"The amendment covers a situation which would enable the city to cooperate with the state and other governmental units in purchases, resulting in a large savings to the city," Lewkowicz added.

Romulus eyes damage in airport's expansion

authorities of Detroit Metropolitan Airport, since they are the people who run the airport, and also because it furnishes a facility to the State of Michigan and to the nation.

"I also do not think it was the intent of the Congress of the United States, when it passed the right of condemnation under the Federal Aviation Act for acquiring land for airports to disregard completely the community where the facility was to be built.

"The WCRC has shown total disregard to the people of the City of Romulus in its expansion programs."

"THE CITY KNOWS airports have to be built. "However, with a little cooperation from the operating authority, flight patterns, proposed runway locations and the acquisition of additional land could be accomplished in such a way so as to protect the entire city as well as improve the airport's needs."

"The people of the City of Romulus and from the surrounding communities, deserve a better deal. Certainly, they deserve to have a voice in where their Federal funds are expended, rather than to see them spent to destroy what they already have paid for in taxes."

Airport heads up list of candidates' issues

from the surrounding area who are directly responsible to the electorate.

"I think the mayors of Romulus and Taylor should be on that authority."

Moran noted the unfeasibility of halting airport expansion altogether, saying: "You don't stop progress, but the people and government must work together on this. Perhaps something could be done to the homes to make them quieter. A federal grant could help do it."

Harris, 50, who is employed by the Cadillac Motor Co., was appointed to the board of commissioners to fill a vacancy last December. He has been active in the Democratic Party since 1948 and is a member of the 15th District Democratic Party, Taylor Democratic Club and Romulus Democratic Club. HE ALSO has served as a precinct delegate.

He is married and has two children.

Moran, 43, is employed by the Ford Motor Co., is married and has five children.

He has served as vice-chairman of the Taylor City Council, a trustee on the old Taylor Township board, a member of the Taylor Planning Commission and Citizens Advisory Commission and on the board of directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority.

TROLLEY, 44, is an insurance agent. He is married and has four children.

He served on the Taylor Board of Education for seven years — two of them as president — and was a trustee and treasurer in Taylor Township. He also was its last supervisor and the first mayor of the City of Taylor. He also served on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

In the area of mass transportation, all three candidates favor a minibus transit system, which would feed into large bus lines going to Detroit and various shopping centers.

"The minibus system, at this point, probably would be the best until truck lines were developed to create a demand for a dial-a-ride service," Harris said.

"A MINIBUS IS A good idea and I would like to see the big feeder lines," Moran said. "Because of the cost of gas, people are looking for alternative ways of transportation. The county should have one large bus system ultimately."

Trolley added: "Currently there are no buses in the communities. And few ways to get to Detroit. It is impossible economically to develop a private bus system, but a government — subsidized program is needed."

"The minibus is a great idea."

Harris said he favors a long-range program of solid waste disposal, adding that a proposed incinerating program may be an answer to disposal.

"BUT THOSE incinerators are going to be the commissioners' responsibility," he said. "Once they get some idea of how the communities want to handle their disposal something can be done about it. I don't think the problem will go away. They have to find some way of disposal."

Moran and Trolley expressed different view on the proposal of building landfills for refuse disposal.

"A landfill is the most economical method of disposal," Moran said. "Someone ought to do a study on the problem of waste disposal. It always will be a problem. Incinerators may be one solution, but you have the ash to take care of."

"I'm dead set against land fills," Trolley said. "Other communities always come and use them. Also, they have to be compacted every day. Incinerating seems to be the best approach at the moment, but it has to be done so that the smaller communities can participate."

THE COST OF incinerating is so high that small communities usually can't afford it. They would have to be subsidized. If the county doesn't find a way of disposal, they will inundate themselves in its own waste."

In regard to the threatened road patrol cut offs, all three candidates see a need for sheriff's patrols in townships, and do not anticipate that service will be cut off in Huron Township as its officials had feared.

Harris' major campaign issue centers around the "open door policy in government," he said.

"All candidates should have an open book. People should know everything about them," he said.

Moran's campaign issues differ for each community within his district, he said. For instance, in Romulus, the airport issue is the center of attention, and in Huron Township it is the sheriff's patrol controversy, he said.

Trolley likewise said his major concern in Romulus is the airport, while his efforts in Huron Township center around the road patrols.

"I also want to make the county more responsible to the voter, the little guy," he said.

City to observe leukemia week

Mayor Terry L. Troutt has proclaimed the week of Sunday through next Friday as Michigan Leukemia Week in Romulus, and urges the city's residents to actively seek information on the blood disease.

"I am encouraging the residents of this city to seek information on the nature and control of leukemia and other serious blood diseases, and to become aware of the many services provided by the Children's Leukemia Foundation by supporting any and all of its activities during Michigan Leukemia Week," Troutt said.

"Leukemia, for centuries, has been a killer of both children and adults, of persons of all ages, regardless of sex, color or creed, and it takes the lives of more than 500 Michigan residents every year," he continued.

"The Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan is the only United Way organization in the state dedicated to furthering research, toward more effective treatment and an inevitable cure for this and other blood diseases," he added. "The foundation also is devoted to the care of serious blood disease patients, and to the counseling and comfort of families of such victims."

No fraud, personal enrichment

Vice-president's record has been clean

Editor's note: Jerry Ford didn't make many political mistakes, but when he did...The sixth chapter of "Jerry Ford, Up Close" takes a look at the politician, warts and all.

Over the years a lot of people had looked for a corrupt stain in campaign contributions made to Jerry Ford, or through him to others. In more than 25 years no one had ever come up with evidence of fraud, lawbreaking or personal enrichment. One of the allegations that must have irked Ford came from John Childers, legislative assistant to Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois. Childers told Percy that Dale Schaufelberger, a director of the Agricultural and Dairy Education Political Trust (ADEPT), told him that "two people associated with the Illinois dairy industry had visited Washington to bring money to Congressman Ford for distribution to other congressmen in connection with the 1973 farm bill."

Childers said Percy told him to write a memorandum to the Senate Rules Committee investigating Ford prior to confirmation as vice-president, and he did.

THE VARIOUS parties involved were interviewed by Jack W. Germond, then chief of the Gannett News Bureau in Washington, and reporter Peter Behr. Schaufelberger, an Illinois dairyman, told them he never made the accusation and would so testify under oath.

Gary E. Hanman of Missouri, chairman of the ADEPT group and purportedly one of the contact men, denied any such donation. Childers said he had the definite impression that a donation was tied to the 85 per cent price parity support the dairymen sought, but added he considered what he heard "strictly hearsay."

Jerry Ford, Up Close: Chapter 6

Ford stated: "The milk producers' counsel, Bob Collier (a Washington lawyer) came to see me after the election (of 1972) and said his clients wanted to help Republican members who had campaign debts."

"I checked with Jack Calkins (executive director of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee) as to who had obligations, and I gave Collier a list of six or seven names. He turned it over to his clients. I then promptly forgot about it."

"A MONTH OR two later several milk producers came into my office and wanted to give the money to me. I told them: 'No, if you want to make a contribution to these members, you will have to give the contribution directly to them.' Apparently they did, and I assume the contributions were reported. I have no other knowledge as to the facts of this matter."

The Senate Rules Committee went into this and many other details of Ford's handling of contributions over the years. It found nothing at which to cavil. Nor any violation of law.

Ford himself had received many contributions during 1972: They totaled $94,000, of which only about $10,000 came from his home state.

Ford in turn passed out part of his receipts with a generous hand: His old friend Bob Griffin, up for reelection, got $3,000; another friend, Al Cederberg, got $750, as did Rep. James Harvey of Saginaw; Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain of East Lansing and Marvin L. Esch of Ann Arbor, $1,000 each; Reps. Garry E. Brown of Schoolcraft and Robert J. Huber of Troy, $500 each.

THE LIST OF individual contributors to Ford in 1972 contains some important names: Joseph M. Segel, then president of the Franklin Mint, $2,546; Grand Rapids businessman Ralph Hauenstein, $1,000; Richard Scaife, a Mellon heir, of Pittsburgh, $2,500; Edward J. Frey, president of the Union Bank in Grand Rapids, $2,000.

To the taxpayer all this history might sound as venal as an airline's contribution of $100,000 to the Committee to Reelect the President, but the fact is that Ford's receipts were legal, the airlines' contributions were not.

Jean McKee, the Grand Rapids lawyer who was the last Democrat to run against Ford for Congress, said: "You'd have to catch Jerry Ford smuggling heroin into the country to make people in Grand Rapids think he was dishonest."

For instance Ford had been appointed a director of The Old Kent Bank, the largest in Grand Rapids. The emolument involved was $1,000 a year, and Ford considered it more of an honor than anything else. He genuinely was surprised, and said so, when the Grand Rapids Press criticized him editorially and pointed out how it might become a conflict of interest when banking legislation moved through Congress.

By BUD VESTAL

Ford mulled this over for a time, then resigned from the directorship.

JERRY FORD could make a mistake, and when he did, it was apt to be a beauty. His experiences with G. Gordon Liddy and Robert N. Winter-Berger were dramatic examples. In the first instance Ford innocently did Republican friends a favor by helping Liddy get a federal job; in the second he was duped when he should have heard alarm bells.

Liddy was a former FBI agent, by will of the FBI, not Liddy. He became an assistant prosecutor of Dutchess County, New York, the kind with a police radio in his car and a collection of pistols at home.

Not content with that, Liddy ran against Hamilton Fish Jr., a candidate for Republican congressional nomination in the Poughkeepsie area. He lost and then went to work for the Citizens for Nixon-Agnew drive in Dutchess County. Ford flew there to speak on behalf of Fish and the GOP ticket.

"After I spoke, Dutchess County Republican leaders including Ham Fish, came to me and asked if I didn't know of some job in Washington that might appeal to Liddy," Ford said. "I didn't know him at all, but he seemed energetic and they seemed anxious to help him, so I said I would see what I could do."

"IT TURNED OUT they were anxious to have Liddy move on, out, go some place else. I remember their telling me he was a political puzzle to them, because they didn't know who he might run against next time."

(But nobody told Ford about the gun collection and sirens in the night.)

After the 1968 election Liddy told Ford he would prefer a job in the enforcement division of the Treasury Department or a job in the Justice Department.

Ford called Eugene T. Rossides, then head of treasury's anti-crime division and Rossides gave Liddy a job.

"I DIDN'T PAY any more attention to Liddy after that," Ford said when the Watergate scandal broke out in 1973. "He was just one of the many persons I tried to help get jobs at that time."

In 1971 Liddy left the treasury and moved to the White House where he became a member of the "plumbers squad." Liddy was one of the masterminds of the burglary of Democratic Headquarters at Watergate.

The Winter-Berger story involved Ford up to his eyebrows. Robert Winter-Berger was a New York public-relations man and jack-of-all-trades who turned to lobbying in Washington when he acquired clients with political problems.

In 1964 he was introduced to Democratic House Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts by Nathan Voloshen, an influence peddler of the first rank who operated from the Speaker's office and, Winter-Berger claimed, actually paid $450 a month rent for the privilege.

IN 1966, Winter-Berger said, he decided to establish rapport with Republican leaders in the House of Representatives and paid $1,000 for an introduction to Ford.

Winter-Berger knew Alice Weston, then with a public-relations firm, whose family has close association with the Ford family of Grand Rapids. Miss Weston wrote her brother, Peter S. Boter of Holland, Mich., and he in turn wrote a letter of introduction for Winter-Berger.

Winter-Berger said Miss Weston then went to Washington with him to meet Ford.

The lobbyist claimed Ford told him: "I think we can work together...my only interest in money is raising money for the Republican Party. I prefer not to see your wallet. When you think a contribution is legitimate, send me the check."

Winter-Berger funneled thousands to Jerry Ford and conceded later that Ford always insisted it be in form of a check, made out to a campaign committee or the Republican Congressional Boosters Club — a continuing slush fund to reelect GOP Representatives. He later said that Ford never put a penny of the money in his own pocket. But he also claimed Ford told him more than once: "Money is the name of the game here; without it you're dead."

THEY MAY HAVE said just that or words to that effect. Ford never tried to kid anybody that money was not the lifeblood of politics.

But it also is true that Ford tried to help some of Winter-Berger's clients. A notable example was l'affaire Kellogg, Francis Kellogg of New York was president of International Mining Co. and yearned to be named an ambassador to an African nation.

He asked Winter-Berger how to go about it. Winter-Berger said the key was large donations of money to the Republican Party. Winter-Berger said Kellogg gave $125,000 in all, including $30,000 to the Republican National Committee through Ford.

Ford later conceded he had helped Kellogg and noted that the would-be ambassador had to settle for a brief visit to Africa as a conference delegate and a middle-echelon political post in the State Department.

IN HIS BOOK, "The Washington Pay-Off," Winter-Berger gave Ford a most dubious compliment, that of all the politicians he had dealt with, he found Ford most willing to try to repay a favor.

In testimony before the Senate Rules Committee's hearings on Ford's nomination as vice-president, Winter-Berger conceded that his writings contradicted subsequent testimony that he had lent Ford $15,000 cash over the 3½ years of their acquaintance, and that he had no documentary evidence of such a loan.

Winter-Berger even gave two versions of why he had stopped seeing Ford.

One, that in October 1969, once he had become a witness against Voloshen, he cut off their association because it would have proved embarrassing to Ford.

THE OTHER, that one day, Ford simply told his staff never to return a Winter-Berger telephone call or let him into the office.

"I got the message," Winter-Berger said.

Several members of the Senate committee indicated they couldn't believe anything Winter-Berger said. The question of possible perjury was turned over to the Justice Department for investigation.

In his own testimony, Ford acknowledged the visits, the checks for GOP campaign funds, recommending Kellogg to the State Department for a job. He categorically denied the main thrust, that Winter-Berger had bought his friendship, his office and influence, and he denied that he'd ever taken a penny from Winter-Berger for himself.

ASKED HOW a Winter-Berger could happen to him in the first place, which was the question in the minds of ordinary voters, Ford only would say: "Some people are deceitful." There is no other explanation: He was alive; he had been gulled.

Publication of Winter-Berger's book naturally created a storm back home in Grand Rapids.

The Grand Rapids Press asked for statements from Winter-Berger and Ford and wanted to know what evidence there might be to corroborate the allegations. The Washington Bureau of the Michigan Booth Newspapers called Winter-Berger in New York. He said he had a bank-vault box full of documents.

BOOTH REPORTER Robert Lewis flew to meet Winter-Berger, who took him to a bank to look at "letters and other documents."

Lewis reported he was shown nothing that appeared to be evidence, just a collection of papers any lobbyist might have. He interviewed Winter-Berger at length. His notes showed that Winter-Berger said: "Jerry Ford never personally received a cent from me."

Cavanagh nomination will give clear choice for November election

Democrats can get Michigan voters a clear and unequivocal choice in November by nominating Jerome P. Cavanagh for governor in the Aug. 6 primary. The others in the race are former-state Sen. Sander M. Levin and attorney James E. Wells.

Levin, who served six years in the legislature, and for a time as Democratic state chairman, lost to Republican Gov. William G. Milliken in 1970 by 44,000 votes. Wells, a self-described occupant for the middle ground, is a new comer to state-wide politics.

Cavanagh ran Detroit as mayor for eight years, 1961-69, during an especial turbulent and trying time in its history. He inherited financial shambles and he made the city fiscally healthy again.

Long-festering racial turmoil exploded in riot in 1967 and Cavanagh stepped to the fore of the recovery.

THE REDUCED — reversing the trend in state and other governments — the public payroll and he opened the dollar pipeline from Washington, bringing back the tax money to help the city. During the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, Cavanagh became a national spokesman for the cities as president of two U.S. municipal groups.

It was the last time the city had pride.

Cavanagh's critical political mistake was running against former Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, for the U.S. Senate nomination in 1966.

Williams gave the new state Democratic Party its life in 1948 and Cavanagh's seeming brash challenge was resented. Williams won the primary but lost to Republican U.S. Sen. Robert P. Griffin.

BUT TAKEN together, the parts of Cavanagh's record in Detroit adds up to a posture the party desperately needs — a visible, respected leader. The party is in a sorry state indeed, if it yields in 1974 to the passions of 1966.

During the campaign, old and unproved charges have been dusted off that Cavanagh associated with figures in organized crime. Most of the charges were developed from the discredited statements for self-styled Mafia informer Peter J. Lazarous, and filtered through Cavanagh haters, were surfaced during his first term as mayor.

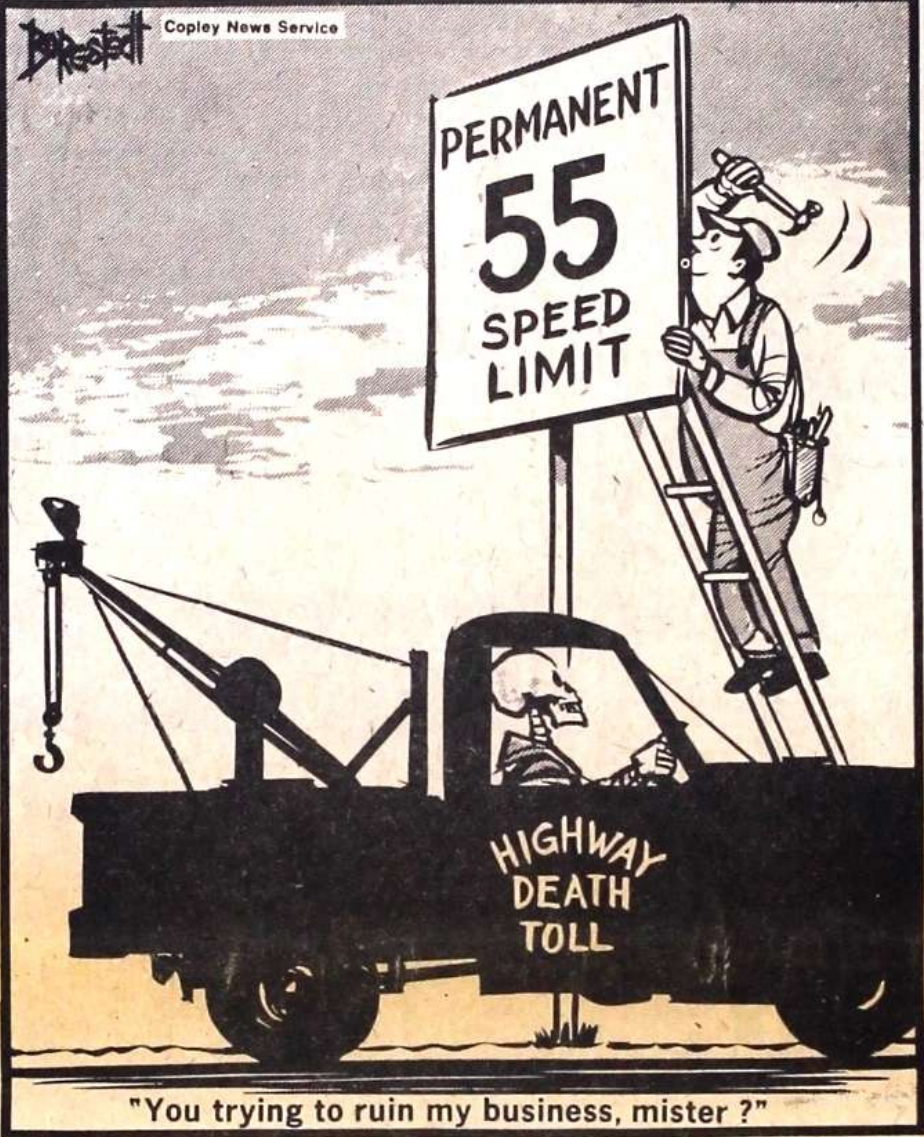

They hated Cavanagh because he refused to let them run the city. Two grand juries, with plenty of investigative help, failed to detract from Cavanagh's accomplishments.

Cynical political watchers will call us naive for endorsing Cavanagh, for failing to understand the workings of the party machinery, the role is that a candidate who doesn't bow in the right places cannot win or serve.

IN A CAMPAIGNING interview Cavanagh said: "I'm my own man politically and always will be."

Standing alone, that statement is a fresh breeze in a day of stagnant status quo. And with Cavanagh's other qualities he deserves the support of Democrats on Aug. 6.

A Panax Editorial

In U.S. Pride seems lost

What do you suppose other nations think of the habit of self-condemnation and criticism of our own U.S. political, economic and social institutions which has become such a universal failing in the United States over the past decade or two?

If we do not value our own institutions, how can we expect others to? For years, most of our major industries have been castigated in public for just about every economic and moral crime in the book.

Self-proclaimed critics have torn apart our social relationships on the grounds of gross unfairness to minorities and sexual bias. Criticism of our government institutions and loss of public confidence in them has reached a crescendo in the agonizing year of Watergate.

Isn't it time we began putting something back together?

American institutions are not that bad. In fact, they are pretty good if compared with those of other nations.

Pride in things American on the part of the people of the United States is becoming one of the scarcest and most badly-needed commodities in the land today.

It would be a ghastly thing if the people of other nations started believing the United States really is as bad as its own people claim.

There's a woman behind the news

By LUCY WIESEND
Enterprise-Roman Editor

After being on the job as editor of Associated Newspapers for more than a month, I find the reaction of some readers to my new assignment a simple extension of antiquated ideas about male supremacy.

And not being a female liberationist, I find that reaction quite comical and at the same time find myself with an even stronger determination to succeed.

One middle-aged lady enthusiastically congratulated me on my promotion from news editor to editor of Associated Newspapers and as an after thought said: "I still believe women have their place — at home, with the children."

OR THERE WAS the middle-aged man who asked: "How could you assume the job as editor, knowing that if you didn't take the job a man would have been hired? Don't you realize that you are taking the place of a man who is the breadwinner of a family?"

Well, dear narrow-minded people, all I have to say is open your eyes. Women are moving up in the world because they are qualified, educated and often times possess a better ability to do the job.

I'd like you to know, though, that your attitude doesn't disturb me in the least. In fact, the attitude of shock that a lady was appointed editor of this hometown daily gives me great pride.

I am proud of the fact that the management here at Associated feels that I, a woman, am qualified to do a job formerly held by men.

AND I AM PROUD of the fact that I am one of only a few women in the state who hold editorships of daily newspapers.

Although the letters and calls of congratulations have been many on my appointment, some seem to be tainted with the question of whether a lady could assume the editorship.

The most vivid example is a letter which reads:

"Your recent promotion to editor of Associated was a move almost too becoming to be true.

"THERE CAN BE no doubts that you will perform as well as any person who has held the position."

The other persons were men. I am the first woman ever appointed as editor-in-chief of Associated Newspapers, The Romulus Roman, The Canton Eagle and The Belleville Enterprise and the Daily Eagle.

The letter writer was a man, of course. And although I'm sure his congratulations were sincere, his choice of words seem to be tainted with a malenestic attitude towards women's abilities.

Believe me, dear letter writer, I will perform as well. No, I take that back, I will perform better than any male who has ever held the position.

I WILL PERFORM better because for the past 1½ years I have tapped the knowledge and experience of one of the best newspaper persons I know. And that person is a man.

Through my professional association with former editor Mitch Kehetian, my capacity as a newspaper woman has increased, my ability to handle individuals and stress situations has doubled and my insight into what a community newspaper should be has been formulated.

And not only do I have Mitch Kehetian to thank for helping me develop my newspaper character and ability, but I also have Associated General Manager John Tarrant to thank for having the insight to realize that a woman could replace a man...that a woman could assume the responsibilities as editor...and that I am that woman.

And as I thank the men responsible for my promotion, I also must thank executives of Panax Corp., which publishes Associated Newspapers, for giving me the opportunity to prove my ability. And my husband, Richard, for doing without homecooked meals once in a while, and having some of his clothes dry-cleaned and for putting up with a house that wouldn't always pass the white-glove test.

FOR WITHOUT Rick's backing, I wouldn't even consider accepting my new assignment and without his encouragement I wouldn't have developed my talents and strived for a position once restricted to men.

I am not a female liberationist, as many people may suspect. I am not the authoritarian, overly sophisticated, power-grabbing bitty, some people have accused me of being.

I am a young (27) energetic person who is planning to do the best job she can in providing the residents of Western Wayne County with top local news coverage.

I am a woman who insists on the title of Mrs. to Ms (when titles are necessary) and I am a woman who finds news service to area residents an exciting and challenging career.

Voice of the people Letter lauds city celebration

To the Editor: Once again the Belleville area fourth celebration was an overwhelming success with many thanks to all those who helped make it so.

An event so large requires community-wide support and certainly the support was evident. The Enterprise-Roman deserves special recognition for publicizing this event to the community at large.

Also, special thanks to Kiwanis and Rotary for their refreshment booths, the Belleville Area Improvement Association (Sherry Eb and Tom Kelly) for sponsoring the street dance (a new event this year), the Belleville Lake Ski Club for an entertaining Water Ski Show and Pat Cullen with Pat Bauman for setting up a voter registration booth.

The city, township and county police departments were extremely cooperative and did commendable work in crowd and traffic control.

Mayor Smith and Supervisor Gollwitzer were encouraging and cooperative on both an official level and in an informal, personal way.

Many others could be and perhaps should be here named in a special way, however, our thanks to all who shared in the responsibilities of this community celebration of our nation's independence, and should finally in the joy of a job well done.

HUD to conduct home survey to update economic indicators

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has set Aug. 5 as the start of its annual housing survey in Western Wayne County.

Conducted by the Bureau of the Census, survey representatives will be visiting households in the area in an attempt to update data on housing, one of the country's basic economic indicators.

The survey will be conducted throughout August, September and October. THE SURVEY will cover 76,000 houses across the country this year. In the first survey, held last year, only 60,000 homes were included in the tally. Those households also will be in the survey this year.

The additional 16,000 households are located in rural areas, a segment of the housing community HUD hopes to collect information on.

Four reports are forthcoming on last year's survey. They will cover general housing characteristics, deficiency indicators in housing and neighborhood movers, financial characteristics and housing characteristics of recent movers.

The households chosen will provide a cross-section of housing units in the country. All homes are selected from 1970 census records which have been updated to include new construction.

Households to be included in the survey will receive an introductory letter in preparation for the interviewer. In dealing with vacant homes, the census bureau representatives will be questioning landlords, rental agents or neighbors.

Township cancels two rec programs

Lack of interest on the part of township residents brought about the cancellation of two summer recreation programs offered by the Van Buren Township Recreation Department. Recreation Director Jeffery G. Clark said that department's offering of a new day camp program at Van Buren Park and drama workshop for students in the fifth to ninth grades have been canceled.

Summer camp program gets boost

A summer camp, program, operated for children of impoverished backgrounds by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, was given a boost recently in the form of the largest contribution from a single source ever made to the society.

John H. Herberston, archdiocesan chairman of the society's fund raising committee, announced receipt of a $9,000 check from the Kresge Foundation for the society's Rebuilding Fund.

"Coming at a time when it's two camps are opening for the 1974 season gives the organization a morale boost," Herberston said.

IN AWARDING its contribution, the Kresge Foundation specified that the money be used for an addition to the counselors' cabin at Camp Stapleton and for winterizing two other cabins at Camp Ozanam.

Both camps, situated on the shores of Lake Huron just north of Lexington.

"The society wants to make sure this work continues," Herberston added.

Energy saving goes to school

A new booklet, emphasizing a need for the development of energy conservation programs in education, currently is being issued to 40,000 educators in the tri-county area, including Western Wayne County schools.

The 60-page booklet, entitled "Energy Conservation: Guidelines for Action," is the result of a cooperative effort between a group of educators from the area and representatives of utility companies and the petroleum industry.

Although inspired by the energy "crisis" that developed in the fall of last year, the major intent of the publication is to deal with long-range values, implications and solutions to the energy problem.

Chief McLaughlin said the department's present radar equipment is 10 years old. It will be used as back-up equipment in another police car.

The Belleville City Council approved the purchase of the new radar equipment last week. It will cost the city $1,400.

The request for the radar unit was made by both Police Commissioner Howard R. Stinehour, who also is a

He added that within a week or 10 days, the city will have two radar-equipped scout cars patrolling the city streets.

Council appoints member

The Romulus City Council has approved the appointment of Charles Bowen of 8720 Burton Rd., Romulus, to the Romulus Election Board of Canvassers.

Bowen was recommended by Mayor Terry L. Troutt to fill a vacancy on the board.

Police give violations

Van Buren Township Police Department issued 62 traffic violation tickets and 49 parking violation tickets during June.

Police Chief John R. Willet Sr. said that 34 traffic violation charges were mostly for speeding. Twenty-one of the parking violation tickets were paid for at the Van Buren Township Violations Bureau.

The police chief also said the police department has three patrol cars operating in the township and each patrol car is equipped with an oxygen ventilator unit.

Two used police radios have been purchased from the Westland Police Department, he added in a report to the Van Buren Board of Trustees.

Karen Pence marries at Methodist Church

Gowns of lavender and soft pink were chosen for the attendants who served at the wedding of Karen M. Pence and P.F.C. William M. Hall. Candelabras holding tall pink tapers and matching candles in the windows set a candlelight mood for the 6 p.m. wedding at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville.

P.F.C. AND MRS. WILLIAM M. HALL

The Rev. Joy Arthur presided at the double ring nuptials with Mrs. Glen Miller providing organ music. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pence of 46779 Ayres, Belleville. Her husband is the son of David Hall of 127 Devonshire, Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Garnet Palowski of Detroit.

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, Karen appeared in an ivory creation of sheer nylon accented with lace on the high neckline and down the long, full sleeves. Her mantilla veil, bordered with lace, cascaded to chapel length and her colonial bouquet was comprised of ivory roses and baby's breath.

Paula Pence of Ypsilanti was her sister's maid of honor in a lavender gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves edged with ivory lace.

A veiled satin hair bow was worn with the empire frock and a bouquet of matching carnations, daisies and baby's breath completed her ensemble.

Dressed in identical soft pink costumes were Patricia Clark of Allen Park and the bride's seven-year old sister, Jill Pence, the two bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, who is serving with the U.S. Army at Fort Carson, Colo., asked three of his army friends to serve at the wedding. P.F.C. David Black and P.F.C. Sam Cole, who are both Michigan men, were best man and usher, respectively. All three wore military dress uniforms.

AFTER THE ceremony, Mrs. Pence received in a pale blue polyester sleeveless gown worn with a long companion coat and matching shoes and handbag. The bridegroom's step-mother chose to wear a long sleeveless lavender gown and white accessories. Both were presented with corsages of white carnations.

Dinner and dancing followed at the reception held at Local No. 1776 in Ypsilanti. The hall's decor carried out the pink and lavender color scheme with a lighted waterfall wedding cake as focal point.

The couple, who honeymooned enroute to their new home at 6614 Dublin Loop, Colorado Springs, Colo., changed to matching faded blue outfits for traveling in their fitted van.

A 1974 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. Hall was employed at Flag's Restaurant in Belleville prior to her marriage. Her husband is attending motor mechanics school while serving with the infantry at Fort Carson.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES R. ERICKSON

Bride's heirloom gown first worn in late 1800's

Deborah Ann Ford was the third descendant to wear the wedding dress which her great-grandmother had made for her own daughter. The gown was first worn by Deborah's great-grandmother in 1880 when she married Dr. Henry Ford in Grace Cathedral in Topeka, Kans. Three other brides have worn the ivory creation of challis and satin and all three were present at Deborah's marriage to Charles Robert Erickson.

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville was the setting for the summer ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ford of Belleville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Erickson of San Jose, Calif. The Rev. Joy Arthur presided at the 8 p.m. candlelight service at which double ring vows were exchanged.

CHARLES ROE of the Eastern Michigan University faculty was vocalist for the occasion with Mrs. Glen Miller as organist and David Wolters cornetist.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, carried a bouquet of white roses, blue cornflowers and baby's breath. Her veil of candlelight tulle, banded in lace, drifted to floor length from the floral headpiece.

A high school classmate of the bride, Mrs. Anton von Will (Christine Harvey) of Ann Arbor, was chosen to be honor attendant. Her flowered voile frock was designed in the empire mode and was complemented by a small headveil secured by a band of fresh garden flowers. Her old-fashioned bouquet of multi-colored blooms picked up the tones of the dress.

MARY B. McATEER of roommate, wore an identical ensemble for her role as bridesmaid.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Victor Erickson of Wheaton, Ill., to be best man. Ushers were Alan Erickson of San Jose, Calif. and James Ford of Belleville, brothers of the bridal pair.

The newlyweds, who were feted at a reception at the Briarwood Hilton in Ann Arbor, are now making their home in Baltimore, Md., where the bridegroom is employed by Hartford Insurance Co.

THE NEW Mrs. Erickson was graduated from Belleville High School, where her father is principal, and Central Michigan University. An affiliate of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority, she is currently teaching in Dover, Del.

Her husband, an alumnus of North Park College in Chicago, Ill., was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross while serving with the U.S. Air Force in Vietnam. A captain, he served as aircraft commander of a C-141.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the home of the bride's parents on Elwell Road.

Dean's list includes RHS Grad

Cathleen Nolen, a 1972 graduate of Romulus High School, was named to the dean's list for the spring term at Grand Valley State College. She maintained a 4.0 average during her sophomore year at the Allendale, Mich. campus.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Nolen of Fletcher, Okla., formerly of Romulus, Cathleen currently resides with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hubner in Taylor.

Majoring in social studies, she plans to teach the mentally retarded after she graduates. Her extra curricular activities at school included being a pom-pom girl for the "Laker Shakers" during the basketball season.

Baileys hold a reunion

A family get-together of the Bailey clan — their first in 15 years — took place recently at the Robbe Road home of Dan and Ardie Bailey and sons, Dan, Eric and Clint. Driving in from Lake Wales, Fla. for the occasion were Dan's sister and husband, Gloria and Marvin Stokes, and their five children, Vicki, Bob, Donna, Gary and Laurie. Arriving from Fort Wayne, Ind. were another sister, Joan Wauer, her husband, Joe, and their three married children and their spouses. Making the family picture complete was Mrs. Ethel Bailey (formerly of Belleville) who came down from E. Tawas with Mrs. Alice Richardson and Fred and Carol Richardson. Week-end activities for the group (who brought along their campers for sleeping accommodations) included a barbecue and picnic plus lots of "remembering when." After the others had departed the Dan Baileys, Mrs. Ethel Bailey and the Stokeses did a bit of sight-seeing and traveling — motoring to Windsor, Ont. to shop and dine on Monday; to Greenfield Village on Tuesday; and to Niagara Falls the following day. The Stokes family departed for home Thursday and on Friday the senior Mrs. Bailey was taken back to E. Tawas by her son and daughter-in-law.

Guests meet the candidate

William J. (Bill) Szlinis, who is a candidate for the additional judgeship of the 34th district, was greeted by some 125 guests who gathered July 23 to endorse his candidacy. Neighbors from the Belle Harbor and Lake Crest Estates circuits as well as friends from the community attended the champagne and hors d'oeuvres party held on the Dick Burwell's patio overlooking Belleville Lake. Co-hosting the evening event with the Burwells were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Davis and Mr. and Mrs. William Doonan.

Bride-to-be feted at luncheon

Harriet Townsend of New Boston was assisted by Lois Ladd of Monroe and Estelle McCann of Trenton in hosting a bridal shower luncheon for their niece, Carrie Townsend of Trenton. Sixteen guests attended the Saturday party which was held on the Townsend's redwood deck. After watching the bride-elect open her assortment of linens, the group enjoyed seeing the many mementos she had brought home from her recent stay in Australia as well as hearing of her experiences there. Guests were present from Wyandotte, Monroe, Trenton, Detroit and Ann Arbor. The honoree's aunt, Mrs. Herbert Weston, who is visiting from Edinburgh, Scotland, was among those attending.

Co-op nursery taking names for fall term

The Huron Countryside Co-operative Nursery, located in the Huron Elementary School Building at Merriman Road and W. Huron River Drive, Huron Township, is seeking new member families for its fall semester.

The organization is non-profit and welcomes families of all races, religions and financial levels. Membership chairman Sharon Hamilton urges interested parents of pre-schoolers, 2½ through 5 years old, to call her immediately at 654-2456 for information of enrollment forms. Most of the remaining openings are in the younger morning class, but all applicants will be considered. The nursery is operated by the students' parents to give their pre-schoolers a program of activities emphasizing social and emotional growth and enrichment. A qualified teacher, who plans and directs the children's program, is assisted in the classroom by the parents on a rotation basis. Activities include crafts, music, dramatic play, field trips, parties and other events suited to pre-school children. State licensing and inspection assures quality in the areas of health and fire safety and programming. Tuition and other costs are kept low by parent participation in fund raising, publicity, maintenance and various clerical duties. These are supervised by an executive board of nursery members, elected annually. The board, led by President, Tanya Paluch of Huron Township, is currently involved in enrollment, teacher contract negotiations and planning for fall programming and member orientation.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

HAROLD REDISKI, HAROLD REDISKI, JR. — DIRECTORS

The pledge of allegiance to the Christian flag (and did you know there is such a pledge?) is patterned on the pledge to the Stars and Stripes. The pledge to the Christian flag was first recited on Christmas Eve, 1908 — 11 years after the adoption of the flag. It occurred in the Third Methodist Episcopal Church, Long Island City, N.Y., during the pastorate of the Reverend Mr. Lynn Hough.

A Mr. Ralph Diffendorfer was conducting a conference of Sunday School workers in Brooklyn when the Rev. Mr. Hough suggested that a pledge of allegiance be prepared for use in saluting the Christian flag. Mr. Diffendorfer was impressed with the thought and asked the Rev. Mr. Hough to prepare an appropriate pledge. Before the conference ended, the pledge was prepared.

"I pledge allegiance to my flag, and to the Savior for whose Kingdom it stands; one brotherhood, uniting all mankind in service and love."

The pledge to the Christian flag and the pledge to the Stars and Stripes are closely linked in words — and purpose...

Timely ideas for cook-outs

Start your charcoal fire about 45 to 60 minutes before you plan to cook. The coals should have burned down from their red-hot stage to a pale gray before cooking is started or the fire will be too hot. When the coals are covered with a gray ash, their temperature will be about 350 to 375 degrees which is the proper temperature for cooking burgers, steak, chops or chicken.

cube tray, then place the milk cubes in with milk in carton, bottle or plastic container to keep it well chilled.

One of the best investments you can make is a portable ice chest. Pack into it a block of ice frozen in a half gallon or gallon milk carton to prolong the chilling of perishable foods.

Want to brush on marinade while grilling? Tie together a healthy handful of fresh parsley and/or sprigs of thyme, rosemary and tarragon for a flavorful fresh herb bouquet to dip in the marinade and brush on burgers, steaks or chicken.

Milk tastes best when it's really ice cold. To achieve this on a picnic, freeze milk in ice

THIS EMBLEM IS THE SIGN OF GOOD BUSINESS AND GOOD FRIENDS.

Plan ahead for picnics

1. Keep a picnic basket ready for spur-of-the-moment picnics. This should include a plastic or paper table cloth and napkins, plates, cups, cutlery, salt, pepper, sugar, mustard and catsup. Then you'll only have to pack the food and be off when the mood strikes you.
2. Fill half gallon milk cartons with water and freeze. These can be taken along on the picnic to melt for drinking as well as to keep meats and salads cold since they provide a "block of ice."
3. Keep charcoal, starter fuel and matches in a bag with work gloves. Whoever starts the fire can keep his hands clean, as well as having everything handy in one place.
4. Fill a wide-mouth thermos with frankfurters, then with hot water. These will be heated by the time you reach the picnic spot.
5. Bake cookies in advance and pack them into coffee cans. Cover with their plastic tops. If you don't anticipate a picnic shortly, the cookies can be kept in the freezer, ready for a quick dessert.
6. Nothing adds more comfort to outdoor dining than a few portable tables. Wood or metal sets are available in every price range. They can be used indoors as easily as out.
7. Don't let bugs spoil a lovely picnic. Spray the picnic area (grass, flowers and bushes) just before the picnic. Do not spray tables or grills.
8. Keep crisp vegetables on hand for the nibblers or hungry ones who just can't wait for the food to cook. That means washed cherry tomatoes, celery and carrot sticks, green pepper cubes, lettuce chunks, cucumber slices placed around a bowl of cottage cheese and sour cream dip. Season to taste with salt, celery, salt, pepper, lemon juice, and grated peel and dust with dill weed or parsley. Let the dressing and vegetables sit on one of those milk carton "blocks of ice," to keep cool and refreshing.
9. Don't trust your glass tumblers on picnics. It's safer, easier and lighter to carry plastic tumblers in the large, "tall" sizes for beverages.
10. Desserts are always ready if you make an assortment of sundaes in paper cups with covers and place them in the freezer. Take them out one-half hour before serving to soften or just before you leave for the picnic grounds.

Pruitts honored at party

An open house July 21 marked the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Pruitt of 201 Belle Villa, Belleville. The couple, married July 22, 1949, were honored at the home of Mrs. Pruitt's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burns of Devonshire Street, Ypsilanti. About 50 relatives and friends called between the hours of 1 and 8 p.m. Assisting the hostess during the day were the Pruitt's two daughters, Donna, who lives at home, and Mrs. Charles (Linda) Stewart of Belleville. Bruce Pruitt of Summer, Ill. was unable to be home for his parents' party.

Babies born at Beyer Memorial

Recent area births at Beyer Hospital have the girls outnumbering the boys by five to three.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Adler of 50333 Willis Rd., Belleville, welcomed a 7 lb. - 12 oz. daughter June 25. She was named Jennifer Catherine. Sarah Renee is the name chosen for the new daughter born July 11 to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Montoya of 43143 Bemis Rd., Belleville. Her birth weight was recorded at 7 lbs. - 6 oz.

A 6 lb. - 7 oz. daughter was born July 12 to Mr. and Mrs. Eddie J. Johnson of 18100 Elwell Rd., Belleville. She was named Tanya Joleen.

Mrs. Randy Charlesworth of 307 Brain St., Belleville, "Jason Ar" arrived July 11 and weighed in at 6 lbs. - 11 oz.

A daughter, Rebekah Charlotte, made her debut July 18. The 8 lb. newcomer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weber of 7658 Mida Dr., Belleville.

The 6 lb. - 10 oz. daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Thacker of 51000 Mott Rd. Belleville, was named Charlene Marie. She made her appearance July 19.

Adam Earl Bodenmiller will celebrate his birthdays on July 20. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Bodenmiller of 42495 Fret Rd., Belleville, he weighed in at 7 lbs. - 14 oz.

Don't bring the laundry home for Mom to do

When the children start leaving the nest — going to college, getting married, moving into an apartment of their own — Mom and Dad always can be counted on for good advice and experienced counsel in matters of mortgages, insurance, baby-care, budgeting and a hundred other areas where experience is valuable and necessary.

Many a Western Wayne County young bride has gone to her mother for advice on how to cook, defrost the refrigerator, and manage her food budget. But one thing that seems too easy to warrant advice is doing laundry. What could be simpler?

Young people out on their own for the first time, may find that what looked so easy when Mom did it, is not as simple as all that.

SO BEFORE you travel off to the laundromat, take a little time to learn some of the basics of laundering.

The first step, of course, is to sort the dirty clothes. Not only are colors separated into different piles of light and dark, but fabrics need to be separated too.

Some fabrics, such as white cottons, linens and underwear, require hot water and vigorous washing. Others, such as washable woollens and dark colors, require cold water and short wash times to prevent shrinkage or fading.

Still others, permanent press and synthetics, require special treatment to prevent wrinkling.

ANOTHER TIP has to do with surface texture. Fabrics that attract lint, such as permanent press, corduroy and synthetics, should not be washed with fabrics that produce lint, such as terry cloth.

After shorting the clothes, remember to empty pockets to avoid the problems caused by lipstick, pens and tissues that are so often washed along with the clothes.

Zippers should be closed and hooks hooked to prevent snagging and catching.

Laundry detergent instructions are on the packages, but alter the amount used according to size of the load and degree of soiling.

Romulus school staff members take part in educational meet

The Romulus Community Schools and its pilot Career Education Project were represented at the Michigan Career Education Conference held in Grand Rapids recently.

The school district is recognized as a leader in the state in the initiation of career education in the classroom.

Presenting information on Career Education in the early elementary grades at the 3-day conference were Al Sheffield, director of Career and Vocational Education; and elementary teachers Robbie Orme, Patty McCabe, and Cindy Kemp.

Sponsored by the Michigan Department of Education, the presentation was delivered in the main ballroom of the Panlind Hotel before an audience of more than 300 teachers, administrators and members of the state education department.

"Romulus has been moving forward progressively in the area of career education and will continue to share its experience in the future," Sheffield said.

A state law requires that all school systems have a comprehensive plan for innovating career education in the classroom by February 1975.

"Career Education's importance has been recognized as indispensable, and Romulus is being recognized as a leader in introducing the plan to Michigan schools," Sheffield added.

Family movie program act as alternative to film fare

The Sumpter Township Recreation Department is sponsoring a weekly movie program for children and family members, offering an alternative to current theater fare.

Recreation Director Michael Berry said the films are shown from 1 to 3 p.m. every Tuesday for children and from 6 to 8 p.m. for the entire family in the gymnasium of the Sumpter Elementary School.

The movie program is offered in addition to the recreational programs sponsored by three area churches, Berry added.

The films shown are obtained from the Instructional Materials Center at the Van Buren Public School District's Administration Building where a library of more than 2,500 films is available.

Election workers schooled

A competent election worker means less trouble and a smoother operation at the polls, and Wayne County Election Commission officials plan to see that kind of procedure during the coming elections.

To accomplish this, the commission recently sponsored an election training school at Romulus High School.

Government employees from area communities who will be assigned to work in the August primary and November general elections, attended the special instruction session.

Communities represented at the election school included Romulus and the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren.

Clerks from these communities also attended the school.

Jaycees induct 3 members

Three new members including two area sports figures have been accepted into the Belleville-Van Buren Jaycee Club.

John Mengete, star guard for the Detroit Pistons; and Harold Ballanger, center fielder for the Blue Inn Softball Team of Belleville, along with Sherman Elliot, general foreman for the Unlimited Home Sales of Belleville are the new members.

The Belleville-Van Buren Jaycee Club now has a membership of 33. Fifteen members have joined the club to date this year.

VB typists to receive machines

A new typewriter replacement program, costing more than $54,000, recently was approved by the Van Buren Board of Education.

The purchase program will be spread over a 5-year period during which time typewriters used in both the junior and senior high schools will be replaced, according to Van Buren School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz.

Approximately $20,000 of the total cost will be spent next year for 13 new electric typewriters to replace machines stolen last year, some additional machines used by office personnel and 60 typewriters used by students.

Some 2,000 species of bats are found in nearly all parts of the world except the polar regions, according to the National Geographic Society.

Members of the Wayne County Sheriff Marine and Water Safety Division soon will be patrolling the waterways in a new and faster patrol boat.

Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas said commissioning ceremonies for the craft will take place at 1 p.m.

tomorrow at its berth at the Elba Mar Marina on the southern tip of Grosse Ile. The public is invited to attend.

"The new patrol boat is the finest and most impressive craft the department has ever had," Lucas said. "I am very grateful to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners for providing the funds for this boat."

The new boat, which has a value of $20,000, will be considerably faster than the 18-foot craft it is replacing, according to Lucas. However, he declined to specify its top speed.

The area of patrol will be from the County Bridge on the west side of Grosse Ile to Monroe County, south into Lake Erie and to the International Boundary Line north to Wyandotte.

The craft will be manned by two Wayne County Deputy Sheriffs who are certified marine divers. The officers will carry scuba diving gear aboard the craft.

The boat will be equipped with VHF-FM radios which will incorporate all the downriver police department frequencies and the sheriff's county-wide communications network.

It also will be equipped with a Sonar depth sounder recorder, first aid equipment, a firefighting pump, modern lifesaving devices, fire extinguishers, emergency tools and flare gun kit, life jackets, an oxygen ventilator and a power searchlight.

Van Buren trustees approve rec budget

A proposed 1974-75 fall and winter recreation budget of $6,138 has received the approval of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees. Van Buren Township Parks and Recreation Director Jeffery G. Clark, in presenting the proposed budget, said revenues would reduce actual budget expenditures, bringing a net cost to the township of $3,586.14.

A request made by Clark for membership in the National Recreation and Parks Association at $50 per year, and membership in the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association at $15 per year, also was approved by the township trustees.

CLARK ALSO reported that the recreation department's first "Coffee House", held July 12 at Van Buren Park was a success and plans currently are being made to hold similar events in the future. Clark said a budget for spring recreation will be submitted to the board at a later date.

Debater to attend meeting

Belleville resident Carol Young of 4844 Michigan Ave., will attend a debate workshop for high school students at Hope College until Aug. 10.

The workshop, sponsored by Springboards Inc. of St. Louis, Mo. in co-operation with the Holland, Mich. school has been designed to bring together high school students from various parts of the country with similar interests and experiences in academic debate.

Miss Young will join high school students from Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska, New York, Montana, Missouri and Ohio.

Hope College is a 4-year liberal arts institution with an enrollment of 2,100 men and women.

Officials may take part in MD telethon show

Representatives of clubs, fraternal orders and civic organizations in Western Wayne County are being invited to appear on-camera during locally televised segments of the 1974 Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy (MD).

The 20-hour show will emanate live from the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas on Sept. 1 and 2, with hourly cut aways to WKBD-TV, Channel 50, in the Detroit area.

The hourly cut aways will feature local club leaders making contributions on camera to MD poster children and telethon celebrities.

A special brochure, "Put Yourself in the Picture," is available free of charge to local clubs and organizations wishing to appear on the telethon. Brochures may be obtained by calling 863-7972, or writing Jerry Lewis Telethon at 18613 Livernois, Detroit 48221.

Jaycees stage millionaire fest

The annual millionaires party of the Belleville Jaycees will be held Oct. 5, under the chairmanship of the club's external vice-president Fred Doman.

Doman, who also is a member of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees, said he will announce details of the millionaires party at a later date.

The Jaycees also announced that upcoming events include a wheelchair basketball game, trap shoot and a canoe trip.

The canoe trip, scheduled for Aug. 24, will be open to all Jaycees and their friends at a cost of $8 per couple.

Coed eyes college

Belleville resident Nancy Charlotte Brown, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Brown of 7909 Belleville Rd., has been accepted for admission at David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tenn.

A graduate of Belleville

High School, Miss Brown will transfer to Lipscomb from Harding College in Searcy, Ark. in the fall.

Lipscomb is a privately endowed, church related liberal arts college with a special requirement of daily Bible classes for all students.

He earns diploma

A Belleville area resident will be among 455 students receiving degrees at the commencement exercises for the summer term at Shippensburg State College in Shippensburg, Pa.

U.S. Air Force Capt. Brian L. Walters, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Walters of 13125 Edgedale Dr., Belleville, will be presented with a master of science degree in communications.

Capt. Walters, who is assigned to the chief communications branch at the Air Force Emergency Operations

Bulldozer topples into hole

A bulldozer, one of several pieces of equipment being used to demolish vacant structures in Belleville's urban renewal site, fell through the floor of one of the old buildings.

However, no one was injured.

Belleville Police Chief Clayton E. McLaughlin said the bulldozer's driver, Stanley Czuj of Detroit, apparently was unaware that the structure had a basement.

The wall of an adjoining building prevented the bulldozer from tipping over and possibly injuring the driver, the police chief said.

Musician attends session

Belleville resident Terri Gamble, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gamble of 41521 Expressway, recently participated in a high school piano workshop at Eastern Michigan University (EMU).

The 2-week workshop, conducted by Joseph Gurt of the EMU music department and taught by other faculty members, included opportunities for the participants to perform in large and small ensembles.

Rehearsals, lessons in music theory and conducting and two ensemble concerts were included in the workshop.

Students receive honors

Three area students have been named to the dean's list at Madonna College in Livonia for the second term of the school year.

Honored by the college were Carla H. Hay, a freshman from Romulus and Karma L. Chapo, a junior from New Boston, who were first honor students. Patricia M. Glaab, a freshman, also of Romulus, was listed among the second honors students.

Graduates get grants for EMU

Two students from New Boston have been awarded Eastern Michigan University Honor Scholarships for the 1974-75 academic year.

Receiving the scholarships were Danny Barry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Barry of 24145 Merriman, and Shirley Stoner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stoner of 37289 Evans St.

Sheriff retrieves corpse

A 25-year-old Detroit man drowned while swimming in Belleville Lake.

Augustus Rissman, of Detroit, was swimming alone across the Alden Road Canal at 3:30 p.m. last Sunday when he called for help then went under, according to Sgt. Fred Reiman of the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol Marine Division.

Several friends witnessed the incident along with a Marine Division officer on patrol. The officer dove in after Rissman, but failed in a rescue attempt, Reiman said.

Rissman's body was recovered at 8 p.m. by sheriff's department divers.

Panax promotes 2 employees

A former Associated Newspapers employee is one of two men to receive promotions within Panax Corp.

J. William Heasley has been named to the new position of director of circulation and Joel Remaley will become director of production according to John P. McGoff, president of Panax.

Panax publishes 44 daily and weekly suburban newspapers in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Florida, including the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman.

McGOFF SAID Heasley and Remaley will report to Panax Group Vice-President Frank

H. Shepherd, who is responsible for advertising, circulation, and printing sales for all Panax operations.

Remaley, 34, will fill the East Lansing corporate-based position of director of production vacated by F.

Marion Marsh. Marsh was assigned in May to establish a new overseas operation of the company.

A NATIVE OF Youngstown, Ohio, Heasley began his circulation-oriented newspaper career in 1957 in the mailroom of the Portsmouth, O., Times. He spent eight years at the Times leaving as district manager.

In 1970 Heasley transferred as circulation manager of Associated Newspapers and two years later was named circulation director for the company's largest daily newspaper, The Macomb Daily, located in Mount Clemens. Before returning to Panax as a consultant Heasley spent time in 1973 as general manager of the Advertiser Photo-News in Warwick, N.Y.

Voters to get surprise in Belleville's election

When voters in the City of Belleville go to the polls to exercise their franchise right they are in for a "surprise."

The city's five voting machines used in the community's two precincts have been transferred from a small cramped, dingy area of the municipal building into larger air-conditioned quarters.

The Belleville City Council recently authorized the remodeling of an area near the council chambers for voting in municipal elections.

The new "election room" has a tiled floor and paneled walls.

In between city elections, the room will be used by various city commissions and boards as a meeting room.

Advises Romulus assessor

Senior citizens should file for tax credit

Romulus City Assessor Harold L. Reiner advises the city's senior citizens (age 65 and over) that if they do not receive a 1974 Advance Homestead Property Tax Credit Claim form by Aug. 16, they should contact the city assessor's office.

Citizens who have turned 65 as of December 31, and who did not complete a 1973 Michigan Homestead Property Tax Credit Form before, should obtain a 1974 Advance Homestead Property Tax Credit Form. According to Reiner, the Michigan Legislature recently enacted new laws allowing an advance homestead property tax credit in the amount of $100 to those persons who are subject to Homestead Property taxes levied on the house in which they live, that are due and payable prior to September 1974.

To be entitled to the advance credit a claimant must be either a senior citizen, who for the prior taxable year had a total household income of $6,000 or less and reasonably expects a total household income of $6,000 or less for the 1974 tax year, or an eligible serviceman, eligible veteran, eligible widow or blind, he said.

A claimant receiving an advance payment must file a timely annual return for the 1974 tax year and make the necessary adjustment on that return.

Committee studies proposed industrial park

The development of a proposed industrial park in Van Buren Township is under study by the township's 7-member Community Development Committee.

The industrial park proposal slated for an 80-acre land parcel located on the north service drive of I-94 near the Willow Run Airport was presented by Kliemann Real Estate Inc. of Ypsilanti at a recent session of the committee.

Ben R. Robertson, director of the Community Development Committee, said that committee is "very much interested in the project and plans a tour of the site." He added that some of the required utilities already are in the area.

OTHER TOWNSHIP development projects discussed at the committee's meeting included the proposed construction of an indoor tennis club to cost $1,000,000. Robertson said that representatives of the developer want a "good accessible location" in the township. The committee members also discussed the construction in the township of a senior citizens home and center.

"The committee is checking into such a project and for an appropriate site," Robertson said. "We also are checking with other communities that have similar projects."

THE PROPOSED formation of an industrial community development corporation for Van Buren Township, one of the scheduled topics to be discussed at the meeting, will be taken up at the September session.

A representative from the Michigan Department of Commerce Charles Hazen is scheduled to present a detailed explanation of setting up such a corporation under township supervision at the September session.

Student center called success

A first year operational report on the Student Service Center at Belleville High School has termed the center to be a "very successful" program.

The progress report, presented to the Van Buren Board of Education by F. Robert Harkai, director of the student service center, disclosed that more than 430 students visited the center during the 1973-74 school year. Harkai said of the students who visited the center, 138 requested help for drug-related problems, 112 for family problems and 149 for school and friend-related problems.

In addition, Harkai said 58 students were assisted with "crisis" situations, involving counseling for pregnancy, venereal disease, drug overdoses, suicide and runaway cases.

Counseling at the center is handled for the most part by student volunteers. Harkai asked the board of education to expand the program with additional student volunteers and set up similar centers at the junior high school level. The director also said the State Board of Education currently is preparing a "very good report" on the Belleville Student Service Center. Other

Hospitals' patients include residents

Many residents from the Belleville-Romulus area found their summer interrupted by recent visits to either Beyer or Belvil Community hospitals.

Local patients at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti included Lester L. Carver, Nick DeFrancisco, Ronald Sykes, Dallas Green, Roy Enders, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Donald T. Pilon, Mrs. Deacy McCalpin, Mrs. Tommie Lipford, William Caldwell, Mrs. Rayburn T. Flanagan, Mrs. Linville Nickell and Mrs. Alfred Gotts. The patients, all of Belleville, were in the hospital's medical wing.

Surgical patients at Beyer included Mrs. Leslie Caswell, Myron Bennett, and Mrs. Jack Phillips, all of Belleville.

Local patients at Belvil hospital included Geneva Caudill, Jacqueline Suttles, Lawrence Hemphill, Barbara Hayes, Paul Klingensmith, Mary Voyles, Emarzella Goodell, Kinney Bruff and Joseph Herhager, all of Belleville.

Joining them in the hospital's medical section was Jimmy Prewitt of Romulus. Surgical patients at the Belleville medical complex were Rosemary Morse, Carolyn Neuhaert, Pamela Diagneay, Nancy Lawson, Richard Little.

Romulus resident Mildred Niemann also was a patient at the facility. Occupying beds in the pediatrics section were Mark Stahl, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Stahl, and Theodore Dow Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dow. Both youngsters are of Belleville.

Report studies waste

The report of a study, evaluating alternative methods of treating wastewater, as well as different uses for treated wastewater and the materials removed from it, has been submitted for consideration by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The Southeastern Michigan Wastewater Management Survey Scope Study was conducted by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in an effort to reduce the amount of pollution entering the lakes of Erie and St. Clair.

Detailed information on the report is available to the public from the District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, Detroit, P.O. Box 1027, Detroit 48231.

Students pass test

Eight students have passed their tests with "flying colors," according to the director of the Romulus Community Education Program.

The students earned their marks after participating in recent General Education Development (GED) testing.

Chamber honors its 'grandfather'

The officers and directors of the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce paid special tribute to one of the city's leading citizens on the observance of his 86th birthday.

The honored guest at a surprise dinner party, sponsored by local chamber officials, and the recipient of numerous birthday greetings was Theodore F. (Ted) Kuckelman, the executive director of the business group.

The birthday party, held at the Woodstone Inn on Rawsonville Road at the I-94 Expressway, was "to show appreciation and pay tribute to a human being who is dedicated to helping others," said Chamber President Ben R. Robertson.

Kuckelman, is known as the "granddaddy" of chamber members and organizers.

Kuckelman, who is recovering from a recent hospital visit at the Van Buren offered at Romulus High School, William Smith said.

Convalescent Center in Belleville, was driven to his surprise dinner party by officials of the chamber.

"This represents a highly unusual accomplishment and marks the first time that every examinee at the Romulus center has completed successfully a scheduled examination," Smith added.

Romulus area residents who passed the GED high school equivalency examination included Laura Duncan, Mark Fischer, Richard Forest, Severne Russell, Roger Stanowski, Elizabeth Takalo, Wanema Ward and Judy Zabik.

The GED test covers five subject areas, English, social studies, science, literature and mathematics. Successful completion of the test leads to a high school equivalency certificate, issued by the Michigan Department of Education.

Individuals interested in taking the GED test may contact Smith at the Romulus Community Education program office at 941-1600.

Romulus Jaycees anticipate fund raisers for burn victims

One of the chief money-raising projects the Romulus Jaycees anticipate they will undertake in the coming year is aimed at helping the 100,000 yearly burn victims in Michigan.

According to Jaycee President Phil McNett, the Michigan Jaycees are calling on the local chapters to aid fire and burn victims in their areas by raising funds for the state's burn treatment centers.

"More than 100,000 burn accidents occur each year in Michigan," McNett said. "Some 3,200 of the victims require hospitalization and about 400 die."

"MEDICAL COSTS alone run about $13 million per year and burns are responsible for 385,000 man-days of disability."

"To respond to a problem of these proportions is a problem itself, because Michigan presently has only four specialized burn facilities—a burn center and burn program in Ann Arbor and two burn units in Detroit.

'To respond to a problem is a problem itself...'

"At most, there are less than 40 beds available for acute burn treatment, and all are concentrated in southeast Michigan."

"Therefore, local Jaycee chapters can best help burn victims of the future in their own area by raising as much money as they can for the Michigan Institute for Burn Medicine and investing every cent of it to train the professionals who will man the burn centers, units and programs serving their particular regions of Michigan," he added.

McNETT RECENTLY met with Michigan Jaycee President Tom Ritter to discuss methods of raising funds for the project.

The meeting coincided with the planning conference of the Michigan Jaycee Executive Committee in Hartland, involving more than 200 local presidents.

The Romulus chapter is entering its 29th year of service to the community.

IDEAL HOME — Undaunted by high interest rates, Western Wayne county residents are continuing their search for their "ideal home." However, prospective home buyers should follow a few simple checks to avoid extra-financial costs after acquiring the home. Leaky ceilings and damp basements should not be overlooked as seasonal occurrences, but as a malingering problem in the home purchasing market.

For home buyers

Insulation check saves money

When buying a new or second home, prospective purchasers should check into a home's insulation to figure out how much of a savings can be had in heating and cooling.

While Americans make up but six per cent of the world's population, they consume 35 per cent of the world's energy. Much of that energy is used to heat and cool homes and commercial buildings.

The Western Wood Products Association suggests one way to ease the nationwide energy drain is to use easily-insulated wood framing in homes.

Framing a house with wood contributes substantially to energy conservation in two important ways. Most of the energy needed to produce wood comes from the sun and of all building materials, wood is the best insulator.

CALCULATIONS BY the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air Conditioning Engineers show that "one inch of wood is four times as efficient an insulator as cinder block, six times as efficient as brick, 15 times as efficient as concrete or stone, 400 times as efficient as steel and 1,770 times as efficient as aluminum."

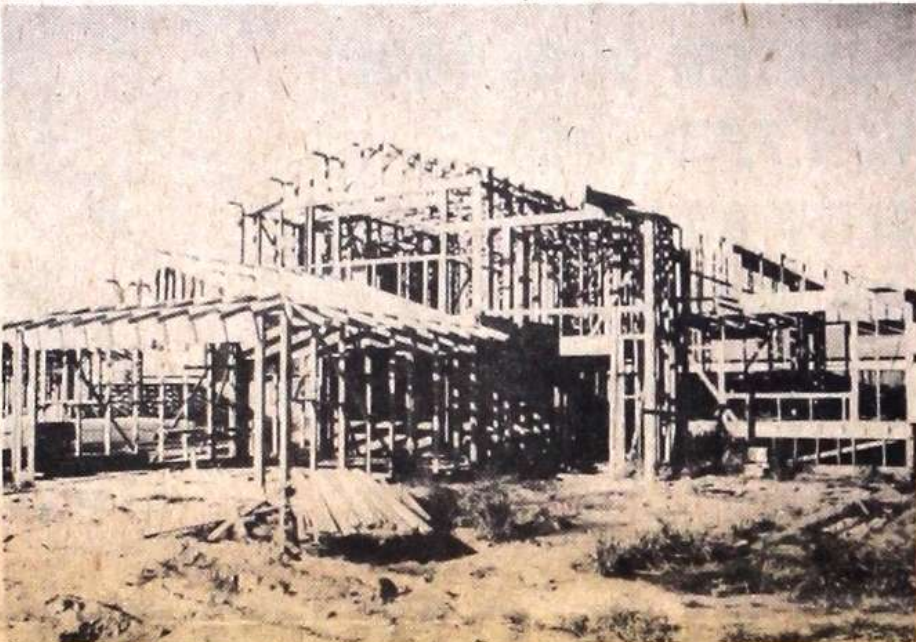

Up-to-date construction methods make it simple to install insulation between wood studs, joists and trusses spaced 24 inches on center without increasing wall, floor or roof thicknesses. Concrete or brick walls generally are thicker than wood frame construction. Since it is necessary to add insulation to concrete or brick walls, this could reduce interior living space.

New Federal Housing Administration regulations place certain limits on allowable heat loss and heat gain in homes. To meet these requirements, adequate insulation can be installed easily in wood frame walls, floors and ceilings.

A comparison of the energy requirements for a wood frame house and a masonry house in Washington, D.C., area by the National Association of Home Builders shows that the wood frame house would cost 23 per cent less to heat and 16 per cent less to cool. Besides conserving energy, the owner of the wood frame house would save about $56 a year in heating and cooling costs compared with the masonry house.

START WITH BASICS — Wood has proven to be the most used item in the country and one of the best insulators around. A new home may prove to be a money-saving home, if starting with basics, the buyer uses quality materials and good insulation. Never discount the standard materials when constructing home. Materials are not used because that's what always has been used. They might prove to be more efficient in the long run than a new fangle invention.

START WITH BASICS — Wood has proven to be the most used item in the country and one of the best insulators around. Materials are not used because that's what always has been used. They might prove to be more efficient in the long run than a new fangle invention.

Cancellation right protects the buyer

The old story of "buyer beware" may become a thing of the past.

According to the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Detroit, state and federal laws now protect homeowners against the buyer's right to cancel in home improvement plans.

The bureau has recommended that potential buyers make sure that their contracts contain a right to cancel clause in an effort to avoid a tragedy later.

The state's Home Solicitation Sales Act requires that home improvement contracts signed in the home and in excess of $35. It also sets up a 3-day limit after the contract is signed to permit the homeowner to cancel without penalty.

Similarly a federal law also covers the consumer's right to cancel.

According to the bureau some construction companies are complying with neither law. A decision on which one will take precedence in the state will be made by the attorney general.

A spokesman bureau said some companies through lack of knowledge and ignorance are in violation of it. Cases involving a dispute about the right to cancel are being handled by the group and companies in violation of the new laws are being asked to comply with the contract change.

However, until the situation is cleared up, homeowners should check into a contract before signing it.

Materials can trim expenses

New-home buyers are discovering that an initial investment in quality products can foster long-term dividends in both energy conservation and lower heating and cooling costs.

A 225-acre community about 40 miles southwest of Chicago, is a case in point. The builder, a partner in the construction company, said he "finds that prospective buyers are asking specific questions about insulation, wood windows with insulating glass and heat loss through the walls and ceilings."

An analysis of window materials, taking weather conditions into account, dramatically illustrates how the dividends from energy conservation can mount.

The Chicago area averages 6,600 degree days during the heating season. The owner of a fully-insulated, one story home that has wood sash and frame windows with insulating glass can save about $88 a year on the cost of gas heat over single-glazed aluminum sash without a specific thermal barrier. With oil heat, the annual saving increases to $106 and with electric heat, it jumps to $124.

These figures are based on fuel costs prior to the price spiral touched off by the energy crunch.

Checking into house can avoid tragedies

Despite spiraling interest rates on loans, Western Wayne County residents still are continuing their quest for their "ideal" home.

However, the wise home shopper will spare himself grief, if he knows what to look for in a good buy.

Buyers should be wary of speculative renovation schemes similar to those plaguing the inner city housing areas.

A BILL BEFORE the U.S. Senate would provide such protection for the unknowing house hunter by requiring the seller, or his or her agent, or the mortgagee, to ensure that adequate disclosures about important structural and operating components of the house are made to the consumer prior to the time of sale.

The idea behind the bill is to provide the prospective purchaser with adequate information on the home to assess if it is worth a substantial investment.

Such a disclosure could spare the buyer grief later. When buying a home, whether new or used, be sure to inspect it thoroughly.

A CAREFUL CHECK list of such things as damp spots on ceilings, indicating a leaky roof, or musty odors in basements could be a sign of necessary future repairs.

Never jump in because the home suits your fancy. The ideal home not only should appeal to you, it also should act as an investment. Be as careful about selecting a house as you would selecting a business stock.

Such questions about heating and cooling costs, taxes and major improvements and repairs also can help in making the final decision.

For new home purchasers the use of quality materials can foster long-term dividends in such things as heating and energy conservation.

THE UNITED STATES has proven to be the largest consumer of wood in the world, and wood has shown it worth as a good insulator against temperature fluctuations.

The type of frame in the house could serve as a possible determination in its money saving attributes.

Another added precaution is the use of title insurance.

Home and garden

A search of public records and the reviewing of pertinent facts related to the purchase can protect a home from claims against it.

THE INSURANCE is a form of protection, in that it would cover the cost of a legal battle, stemming from a claim against the property.

A smart homeowner protects his home against fire and so should a new home buyer protect his dream house against an outside claim.

The smart home buyer is one who looks into all aspects of the purchase before making a decision he may have to live in for a life time.

Insurance to protect against property claims

Created in 1876, title insurance is one of the oldest forms of consumer protection. Yet it is one that is too often unrecognized or misunderstood by home buyers.

Title insurance may seem complicated, but, considering the rewards in protection and peace of mind, it is well worth finding out what it's all about.

When a person buys a piece of real estate, the security of his investment rests on the protection of the title to that land from existing or potential claims by others. The time to determine what hazards of record may exist against the title is prior to completing the purchase.

Safeguarding a title against hazards of record consists of two basic steps, searching public records for all matters relating to past ownership of the property and reviewing and evaluating pertinent facts uncovered in the search.

On the basis of the research, an opinion or judgment can be formulated on the soundness of the title.

Title insurance differs from the usual concept of insurance in that it includes this search and evaluation plus an insurance policy against legal costs or losses sustained from subsequent claims on the property.

Many home buyers do not understand that there are two kinds of title insurance: Owner's title insurance and lender's title insurance. The lender's policy is required by many banks or other lending institutions. But owner's insurance normally is not required by the lender.

ADDED CARE HELPS — A well-cared for home can prove to be a good investment in buying and selling. Prospective buyers seek out better looking homes while sellers can expect a higher price, if the house retains much of its original new appearance. Run-down homesteads detract not only from the sale price of the home, but also tend to prolong the search for a buyer.

Good home care is a selling point

Thinking about selling your house? A new roof could upgrade its appearance and resale value, especially if it offers prospective buyers low maintenance, long-term protection and beauty.

Today's premium quality asphalt shingles provide all three. They require little maintenance, are designed to last up to 25 years and are available in a wide selection of bold, heavy-textured earthtone colors that create a 3-dimensional appearance.

In many cases, asphalt shingles can be installed over the existing roof providing an added saving in time and money in removing the old roofing material.

ONCE the new roof has been installed, don't neglect it. There are several tips on roof care you should follow until the sale of your home is completed.

Keep gutters, downspouts and roof surfaces clear of fallen leaves, twigs and other debris so that water will drain easily and not back up.

Never allow water from a downspout to pour directly onto the roof below. Keep the downspout connected to the gutter which drains the lower roof.

Keep trees trimmed to prevent scuffing of the roof by branches or damage by falling limbs. Keep climbing roses, ivy or vines trimmed back.

DON'T WALK on the roof. Not only is it dangerous, it can damage the shingles. When necessary for workmen to go on the roof, make sure they use walk boards, ladders, scaffolding or other suitable devices.

When removing snow or ice from a roof, be careful not to damage the roof with whatever tools are used.

Home lacks character until a family moves in

A home manufacturer who has studied the changing lifestyles of homebuyers says "a house doesn't become exciting until people live in it." By following through on this philosophy, an Indiana in-dustrian has achieved success in the modular housing field, where some larger and better known companies have failed.

"Most modular housing failures were marketing failures," said a marketing director. "They didn't understand why people buy homes."

HE BELIEVES he does understand. With a family history in construction, including 10 years in homebuilding and 10 years in travel trailer manufacturing since World War II, he conducted a study of homebuyers and their lifestyles before entering the modular housing business.

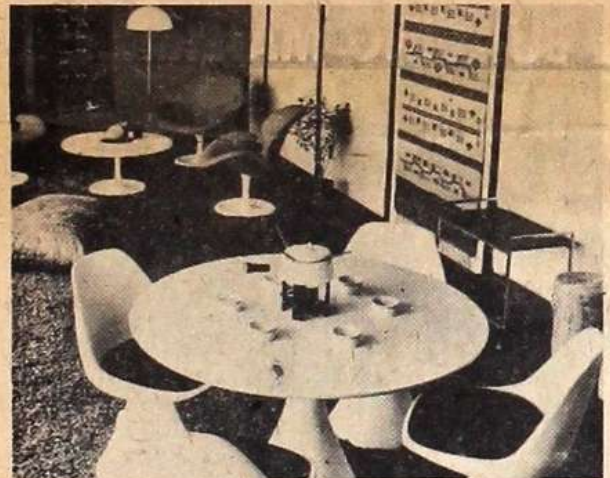

One reason a man buys a home, he found, is for privacy. "But the woman is the key," he said. "Her lifestyle has changed tremendously. Typically, she is between 25 and 40 years old, has two kids, wants low-maintenance and is color-oriented and soap-and-water minded. She is active in clubs, sports and social activities and constantly is on the move. As a result, she spends only one hour a day, cleaning the house."

Acting on this information, the industry produces factory-made homes with a wide selection of materials and colors. The houses have brand-name, low-maintenance features such as vinyl-clad windows that are easy to clean and need no painting. Manufacturing and transportation procedures were established to assure that buyers receive their homes just the way they want them.

TO HELP buyers customize their homes, the company gives the woman freedom to decorate and individualize it — up to a point.

"We won't change the walls, kitchen or wet core, because then we would lose the economies of mass production," he added.

When the house rolls off the production line, it is trucked to the job site and set on its foundation by two men in one day. The house is usually ready for move-in by 4 p.m. except for utility hookups.

NOW IT'S LIVEABLE — A vacant home not only echoes, it looks bare. It takes a little dash of this and that and a happy family to round off a new home.

Real estate buying has financial gain

Maybe you're thinking that an investment in real estate would be a good hedge against inflation.

Unless you have enough funds to go it alone, you have two options: a limited partnership or a real estate investment trust (REIT). Which is best?

"The answer depends on the particular opportunity and your investment objective," said the president of a Chicago-based real estate investment trust.

IN SIMPLEST terms, limited partnerships primarily are good as tax shelters for people in high-income brackets. REITs are used largely to produce high current income for investors.

Limited partnerships are so called because the investing partners' liability is limited to the amount of their original investment.

Partnerships are put together by stockbrokers, developers, attorneys, and accountants who bring in individual investors. Partnerships usually are kept small, fewer than 25 people, to avoid the complicated registration requirements of government securities agencies.

Because the typical limited partnership is private and the shares of ownership are relatively large, it is not easy to buy or sell ownership shares. Investors typically are invited to participate, and each investor must put up a relatively large amount of money.

THE PRIMARY ADVANTAGE of the partnership is that it gives the individual partner or investor the right to use the partnership's tax losses directly. These losses arise largely from depreciation and interest. The investor can utilize his share of the partnership's losses as deductions on his own income tax return to offset income from other sources.

The higher an owner's tax bracket, the more he benefits from these deductions.

REITs are trusts formed by banks, insurance companies, mortgage bankers, and other organizations to attract funds to finance real estate development.

Money for REITs comes from the public which buys the common stock and bonds on the market. You can make purchases through your stockbroker and there normally is no restriction on how many shares you can buy.

THE REIT can pass through all of its income, but not losses, to shareholders without first being taxed itself. To accomplish this, the REIT must pay out 90 per cent of income to shareholders, and 75 per cent of its income must come from real estate investments. These two requirements are the most significant tests, although there are others that must be met.

So if you REIT does well, you can expect quarterly dividends as income. In addition, if the market price of your REIT shares goes up and you sell, you will enjoy a capital gain. Of course, any income or capital gain is subject to income taxes.

The primary advantages are income and capital appreciation. A yield of 11 per cent is not uncommon today.

The excellent yield on REITs, coupled with the ease of buying and selling shares, makes them ideal for the typical investor who is not concerned with tax shelter as a primary goal.

Measuring can solve cramping

When adding a closet, plan for a minimum depth of 24 inches from front wall to back, to prevent squeezing clothes on hangers.

The average height of a closet shelf is 5 feet - 8 inches. The rod for hanging clothes is installed two inches below the shelf.

In closets that will be used for coats and dresses, the rod should have at least five feet clearance above the floor.

Veterans get ed supplement

Some 55,000 veterans whose GI Bill eligibility was extended two years under a law recently signed by President Richard Nixon, will receive their education assistance checks by the end of July, said a Veterans Administration (VA) spokesman.

The 8-year deadline on using the bill's school benefits expired June 30 for veterans who separated from military service between January 1955, and July 1966.

Those veterans who were in school at the time the new law was enacted will be paid for training beyond the former expiration date.

CHECKS USUALLY are delivered in advance of each month of training. The VA had prepared in advance of the bill's enactment to process payments for summer school students as soon as the authority to make the payments was received, the spokesman said.

Veterans in school, who were discharged less than eight years ago, have continued to receive their monthly checks without interruption. They will have continuing eligibility under the new law for up to 10 years after separation from service.

Eligibility had expired for some four million veterans. Of these some 55,000 were in summer schools and approximately 100,000 were taking correspondence courses.

The extension of eligibility from eight to 10 years also applies to eligible wives and widows of veterans who train under VA's dependents' educational assistance act and to veterans who take farm cooperative, flight, apprentice and on-the-job training.

THE LAW granting the 2-year extension was the second in recent weeks to eliminate deadlines for using GI Bill benefits. On May 31, the President signed a bill which provided a 30-day extension for veterans whose benefits were due to expire May 31. Single veterans going to school full-time under the GI Bill draw $220 monthly in educational assistance.

However, legislation is pending in Congress to increase allowances.

Youth network seeks work for teen-agers

Employers, interested in providing jobs or brief explanations of how their businesses operate, may brighten a summer day for teen-agers in Western Wayne County.

The Wayne County Juvenile Facility Network is looking for local business men and women willing to give youth a chance to experience and learn about employment.

The program, set up by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, coordinates services for youth, with the emphasis on those youngsters falling between the ages of 7 and 16.

Three demonstration centers have been set up throughout the county, including one in Inkster, located at 4360 Hickory.

Through assistance from neighborhood business, the group is hoping to provide youth with first-hand experience in employment, whether through talks or on-the-job training.

PCHA employe heads hospital housekeeping

A 5-year employe of the People Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) has been appointed executive housekeeper at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

A native of Ohio, Roy E. Patton will head up a team of 54 full-time and 11 part-time employes in keeping the hospital clean.

Patton joined the PCHA in 1960, working at its Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park. In 1964 he was made assistant executive housekeeper at that hospital.

He left the authority in 1964 to form his own company, but returned in 1973. He was employed as the assistant housekeeper at Annapolis.

A graduate of the PCHA's management school, he also has taken courses at Oakland Community College.

As head of housekeeping, he will manage a $350,000 budget in maintaining the hospital's aseptic conditions.

Farms may face fertilizer shortage

Panax News Service
Huge increases in demand for natural gas and a shortage of production capacity have combined to create shortages in key components of che-

So observes Joseph P. Sullivan, president of Estech, Inc., Chicago, a major fertilizer producer, who expects a 15 per cent shortfall this year in ammonia - derived from natural gas - and a 12 per cent shortage in phosphates.

Estech is a subholding company of Esmark, Inc., Chicago, a diversified company with additional major interests in food and energy, as well as insurance and other business and financial services.

IRONICALLY, only five years ago the fertilizer industry was considered overbuilt, with production capacity excessive and demand slack.

Now, with production straining to meet demand - projections anticipate about 53 million tons this year - major companies such as Estech are scrambling to increase output - to develop greater capacity.

"Production in the first nine months of the fertilizer year was up eight per cent," said Sullivan, who is also chairman of the Fertilizer Institute, the

GOP candidates debate

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Of Enterprise-Roman Staff

The two Republicans seeking their party's nomination in the Aug. 6 primary election in the 15th Congressional District would not hesitate to vote to impeach a Republican president, if the evidence proves he's guilty.

Neither Edgar Nieten, 36, nor his opponent, Jack Underwood, 37, would judge the president on the impeachment question until they receive the facts.

"I can't make a decision now, but if elected I would receive full information now available in the House Judiciary Committee to make an intelligent decision on the matter," Nieten said.

"I'D HOPE THE vote would come before the new Congress takes office," Underwood said.

"But if I was to take office and have to make the decision, I would wait for full information, and if the President is guilty of wrongdoing, I'd vote to impeach."

"I can say right now, based on the evidence in the news media, there was no wrongdoing."

Nieten, however, said: "The circumstantial evidence seems to show there was some wrongdoing, but then I make that decision without knowing all that the House Judiciary Committee will know."

Both candidates hope to oppose incumbent Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) in the November race for Congress.

Nieten, who lives at 15534 Anthony St., Romulus, is making his first bid for elective office. He has no previous experience in government.

He has a bachelor of arts degree in social science, a bachelor of arts degree in history and a master of arts degree in education. He has been a teacher in the Detroit school system for six years.

Nieten and his wife of three years, Elizabeth Anne, are the parents of one child.

Underwood was an unsuccessful candidate for the 37th District State House of Representatives seat in November 1972.

A RESIDENT OF 1250 Sharon Dr., Westland, he is a member of the Westland Republican Club and has served on a special citizens' planning committee in Westland.

He is a graduate of Lenoir City High School in Lenoir City, Tenn. He also attended the DeVry Technical Training Institute of Chicago, Ill., before becoming a project supervisor for the training department in Burroughs Corp.

Nieten said he is a strong believer in improved political ethics and indicated he will run his own campaign by not accepting any contributions and by seeking publicity only in news columns.

Underwood and his wife of 12 years, Nancy, are the parents of three children.

"SO FAR I'VE spent $11.50 on my campaign and don't intend to go much beyond that," Nieten said. "It is my firm belief that the publicity obtained through newspapers is sufficient to give me full exposure in the campaign. More would only be an abuse of money."

Underwood said he is "confident I can make the primary" and has not spent more than $100 on his campaign.

"I haven't placed any limits on the amount of funds I will receive from an individual," Underwood said. "I believe there should be some sort of limit."

"When I receive offers of donations, I'll determine what the limit will be."

"THEN I WILL reveal all sources of income for the campaign when the primary is completed."

Both candidates said inflation is the most persistent problem facing the country.

Nieten added that the partial solution to inflation may be promoting the free ownership of gold.

"If everyday people in the nation were allowed to purchase gold on the open market, their savings wouldn't deplete because of inflation," Nieten said. "I'd also advocate stop selling grain to overseas nations when it is then sold by them on the open market at a profit which harms the United States."

UNDERWOOD SAID the cure for inflation lies in balancing the budget.

"If I get to Washington, my first task will be to see how Congress can assure a balanced budget in the next fiscal year," he added. "Changing some of the spending should work to cut down inflation."

"In addition, individuals should be urged to reduce spending so the supply of goods increases and their price drops."

The Van Buren Township Board of Zoning Appeals will meet at 8 p.m. Monday to consider six appeals, including requests for zoning law variances or special zoning approvals.

District court adds judgeship

The 34th District Court, headquartered in the City of Romulus, will add a new judge under provisions of Public Act 145, recently signed by Gov. William G. Milliken.

The act provides for the election of additional judges in three district courts in the state.

The present 34th District Court Judge, James B. Stone, is not a candidate in the Aug. 6 primary election. He has four more years to serve in his present term.

The increase in judgeships was based on a rise in case loads in the three districts.

A survey made by the Michigan Supreme Court disclosed that the case load in the 34th District Court 5,000 cases a year during the last five years.

The court's jurisdiction covers the communities of Belleville and Romulus and the townships of Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron.

Candidates seeking election to the new judgeship in the Aug. 6 primary election are Fred H. Hogan and William J. Szlinis, both Democrats. The lone Republican candidate is Henry Zaborowski.

Terminal will open

The growing importance of the Detroit metropolitan area as a world travel center will be highlighted tomorrow as a new international air terminal begins operations at the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport in Romulus.

Under construction for two years, the $11.5 million facility is named the Michael Berry International Terminal in honor of the chairman of the Wayne County Road Commission, which operates the airport complex.

The new terminal, capable of handling nearly 10,000 travelers a day, will serve passengers of all international carriers. Charter flights also will be serviced by the three arrival-departure satellites designed for simultaneous use by three jumbo jets or six smaller aircraft.

FORECASTS SHOW that international air travel through the Detroit area will more than triple within the next seven years. The present level is approximately 315,000 passengers per year.

The new terminal completely is autonomous from other units of the Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport and offers complete facilities for immigration, public health, customs, agricultural inspection, passenger and baggage check-in, dining rooms, lounges and other services.

Visitors to the 3-level structure will be greeted by a gracefully sculptured 400-foot long concrete canopy and 23 sculptured pillars. In addition to the reception lobby, the first level will house check-in and baggage makeup and claims services as well as customs inspection.

airline offices and immigration and public health inspection.

The new terminal is a major step in a $69 million expansion program undertaken at the airport.

IRS has money to distribute

Many Michigan taxpayers have undelivered refund checks waiting for them at the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Any taxpayer who has not yet received his refund should call or visit his local IRS office as soon as possible, said R.L. Plate, district director of Internal Revenue for Michigan.

The most common reason for an undelivered check, according to Plate, is that the taxpayer has moved and left no forwarding address with the U.S. Postal Service.

IN CASES where the taxpayer suspects his check may have been lost or stolen, Plate suggested getting in touch with the local IRS office as soon as possible so that a tracer can be put on the missing check.

Some refunds may have been delayed because of errors or omissions on tax returns, Plate said. Taxpayers notified of this should follow the instructions received from the IRS in order to speed up issuance of their checks.

The IRS official stressed that in all refund inquiries the taxpayer should be prepared to provide his name and address as it appeared on the return, his actual name and address if different, his social security numbers and the type of the form filed.

Race isn't over, yet

Odd Squad, Kid Power aim for titles

The Odd Squad and Kid Power have one thing in common - both teams are undefeated in the Romulus Women's Softball League.

Brandishing a 6-0 record, the Odd Squad has nailed down the top of the standings in the Eastern Division while Kid Power, despite a makeup game in the future, has assembled a team that has won five straight in the Western Division.

Sweltering heat didn't stop the determined women of the Romulus Ladies Softball League, either.

In the East, the Odd Squad remained on top as they dumped the Thumpers 27-0. Top batters for the Squad were Janeal Eberline with five hits and Cheryl Wedyke with four hits. Pat Dick and Debbie Wilcox had six RBI's each and Pat Holcomb added four more.

BULLSHIRTS remained winless as they came out on the short end of a 12-3 game with the Bottoms-Up. Bright moments for the Bullshirts were Joyce McLeod and Rhonda Beebe, going 2 for 3 for the day. Carol Fehmie and Carol Johnson each added one hit.

For the Bottoms-Up, the mother-daughter combination of Pat and Diane Summerfield accounted for six hits for nine combined at bats. M. Renke collected 3 RBI's.

The Electric Warriors, led by the ace pitcher Sandy Cook, and the home run power of Alice Verduco and Margaret Ayers ripped the Red Hots by a score of 13-1.

Other top hitters for the Warriors were Nancy Verduco, Sandy Cook, Cheryl Abdo and Sherrie Compton with three hits each.

Stand out for the losers was Janet Hargrove with four hits.

THE ODESSEY of 2001 continued winning as it easily slid past the Airline Bombers by a score of 9-2. The hitting attack was paced by Pat Maciejewski who picked up four hits.

Also instrumental in the victory with three hits apiece were Ann and Audrey Szyndlar and Carol Casmer.

IN THE Western Division, the Kel-Joys took the sting out of the Tarantulas by a 27-8 score. An awesome hitting attack saw Jan Madaski and Betty Boshma belting home runs.

Jan and Betty plus Cheryl Lynn, Lila Bogetta and Debbie Nizman collected 26 hits in a total combined effort.

In their losing effort, the Tarantulas did have moments of "Joy." Mary Dziedzic hammered a home run while Kathy Mulready, Sue Kramer, Dixie Cobb, Cheryl Oaks and Henri McElhone all collected three for four on the day.

It only took four innings for Kid Power to prove it could outswing the Swingers 21-0.

Joyce Gray led the hitting assault, driving in six runs, with three doubles and a home run.

DIANE GATE picked up four singles. Glory Casey, Shirley Gray, and Vickie Gray each had three hits. Mickey Jordan, Linda Fee, Barb Weiss, and Gale Noltvig each singled for the losers.

In a slugfest, the New Streakers beat out the Foul Balls 19-10. Streakers hitting attack was led by Faye Savage's two home runs with Mary Karbowski and Kathy Miank each adding one apiece. Vicky Shindler's four hits, along with doubles by Cindy Seward and Bess Langford rounded out the winners hitting.

In a wild contest, the Denim Dolls out-slugged the Seekers by a score of 17-13.

Debra Shallow drove in three runs for the victors with a double and a triple. Sharon Smith, Ann Lange, Joyce Pierce and Judy Mullens added three hits apiece. Alice Stratton homered and tripled for the losers.

Mysterious 'athlete' shops in the area

By TOM MOORADIAN

He is articulate, good looking, weighs about 230-pounds and stands 6-foot-4 in his stockings.

And this mysterious person also has at least two area high school football coaches drooling.

"He showed up at school one day," said Wayne Memorial head football Coach Floyd Carter, "and said he was from Fort Worth, Texas and that his family was moving into the area."

"The lad was interested in our football program," Carter continued, "and, of course, I was drooling. He made Al Slamer look small."

Slamer, a 1973 standout at Wayne, earned All-State and All-American recognition as a defensive back.

"Of course we became very interested in this stranger and took him around the school and showed him our facilities. The guy said he ran 10.4 in the 100 as a member of his high school relay team and also bench-pressed 400-pounds."

"With his physical qualifications," added Carter, "I didn't doubt him. He was a coach's dream - really."

However, that dream began to fade, Carter said, when he visited with some of his friends and coaches at Eastern Michigan University.

Carter told the EMU gathering about his finding and one of the coaches laughed, "You, too?"

Then came the revelation.

The coach told Carter how a few days before a young man, articulate, weighing about 220-pounds, standing 6-foot-4 in his stocking feet showed up at one of the high schools in Ypsilanti.

This young man said he was interested in the high school's football program and that his family was moving into the area.

Carter said his dream suddenly shattered.

"We couldn't figure it out," said the friend. "Who is this 'mysterious athlete?'"

There are some theories.

One coach offered that the lad was "too articulate and knowledgeable, therefore, couldn't have been a high schooler. He felt that the boy or man was a reporter who was out on assignment to find out if high schools recruit athletes and offer them special privileges."

Another coach said he felt that the guy could have been a college student who is writing a thesis on "high school football" and needed the material."

But, whoever, the mysterious man was he created a stir in the area.

And, wouldn't it be something if this young man was really a high school transfer student looking for the best program around?

Yes, folks the vacation is over. And we're back on the job.

Like death, the end of a vacation is probably the most difficult to accept and readjust to, but all good things must come to an end at some time or other.

So, the sports line is open - and if you have anything for The Sports Meridian he's back at this desk from 4 p.m. until midnight during the week and on Sunday's from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Gee, I wish I could have had just another week, boss.

ALWAYS TOUGH — One of the top harness drivers in the nation, Wally McMurray will be shooting for the over-all title at Wolverine Harness Raceway after a successful stint at Hazel Park. The veteran area driver has been among the top drivers for over a decade. Racing at the DRC track begins nightly at 8 p.m.

Romulus Welding stays undefeated

Though they have already clinched the Romulus Men's Class B softball championship, Romulus Welding is shooting for its second goal of the season - to finish undefeated.

And the newly crowned "B" champ is well on its way of accomplishing the feat as it riddled Form-Flow 11-0, then plastered Beck-Howell 13-5 to chalk up its 15th and 16th win of the season.

Meanwhile, Huron Valley Steel continued its way towards the Class A title as the pacesetter cooled Beer Coolers 15-3 and has pocketed a 13-2 record.

That record puts Huron in a safe distance from the Beer Coolers who are seated in second with a 9-5 mark.

In Romulus Welding's victory over Form Flow, Wally Dreuno had three hits and 2 RBI's and the shutout pitching of Larry Scheffer. In Romulus Welding's win over Beck-Howell their 17-hit attack was led by Kenny Mientkiewicz, Hugh Miller, and John Sterling, each going 3-for-3. The winning pitcher was Paul DeBuyscher.

Romulus ump gets rare treat

The umpires for the Romulus Women's Softball League were given an additional treat last week when Miss Pattie Loftis showed up for the games.

Who's Miss Pattie Loftis? None other than Miss Michigan Universe who was escorted to the game by umpire Gary Hillson. The appearance by the beautiful Miss Loftis was organized by the Romulus Jaycees.

And the Romulus Jaycees will also take 30 fans to the Tiger baseball game scheduled for Aug. 3. The project is being organized by Tom VonGlabn and Hillson.

Something has to give when two teams are 9-3 and in first place. But neither Atchinson Ford nor Roberts Brothers want to yield in the race for the Belleville Babe Ruth League championship.

Roberts Bros. shut out PNA Lodge 16-0 behind a 15-hit assault which kayoed losing pitcher Tom Montgomery, Richard Dapsi, the winning hurler, aided his own cause with three hits.

DAPSIS' teammate Marty Tompkins also swatted three key hits while Larry Pingston, Richard Muse and Mark Stodton each chipped in with two in a game called after five innings because of the mercy rule.

The awesome Roberts' hitting attack apparently scared off Rebekah Lodge contingent which forfeited its game to the league co-leader. Meanwhile, Brian Ralls pitched Campbell to an 18-5 victory over PNA as he scattered six hits to chalk up the victory.

Norm Rashlow was charged with the loss, serving up 12 hits.

PNA's Mike Koski had an excellent night at the plate as he stroked two of his team's six hits. However, Lance McArthur's bat did a lot of the "talking" for the winners as he came up with five hits.

Campbell's Dale Adkins also had a fruitful day at the plate as he belted four hits and accounted for three runs batted in.

Other Campbell standouts at the plate were Ralls, who hammered three hits and mate Mark Cornett who came through with a pair of hits, a double and triple.

In their second confrontation of the day, Campbell again proved too much of Sports meridian

By TOM MOORADIAN

In bygone columns I have always argued that a winning team is not the product of one man but the sum total of men working to make that team - or organization - a success.

Apparently, Romulus has gotten the message. The city has rallied around the area's youngest head high school football coach, Tom Baldwin, and helped him to send his future varsity team to football camp.

All candidates for the Romulus High team will be spending four days - Aug. 12 to 15 - at Round Lake in the Irish Hills. Don Ellis, whose son, Mike, is on the Eagle varsity squad, has surrendered his cabin to the Romulus coaching staff and the prospective players so that they can take a couple of days off before the gruelling season begins.

But it won't be all fun and no work, according to Baldwin who takes over the varsity grid machine from Jim Stallings. Stallings moved to Ypsilanti as the Braves new head varsity wrestling coach.

BALDWIN, WHO BECAME 24 last Monday, said he will use the time at the camp as "a getting to know each other" opportunity.

"I want all of our players and coaching staff to get to know one another very well," said Baldwin, "and living in close quarters as we will is one of the best ways."

"We also will have some skull sessions but, as you know the state has certain rules about practicing at this time and we will abide by all of them."

The Michigan High School Athletic Association has certain guidelines about pre-season practice and one of those is that there be no contact be physical contact between players. Some coaches in the past have assembled their players and conducted illegal practices which led to the ruling.

BALDWIN FEELS that the four days at Round Lake will serve two purposes; first, it will help to get the players into condition and, secondly, it also will help them relax.

Food, of course, was one problem. How do you feed approximately 25 growing, muscular prep gridders? And there's where the Romulus Jaycees came to the rescue.

"Would you believe that the Jaycees dug into their coffers and gave us $200?" said Baldwin rhetorically. "Is there anyway you can thank them for us."

"We certainly appreciated it."

"BALDWIN AND HIS GANG also has special thanks for the Romulus Recreation Department. The department came up with the transportation, providing the group with a bus to the from the camp.

"When you have people like these around, you just want to win," sighed the young coach. "I'm optimistic that we're going to have a good season."

Tom, all Leos have a confident air about them. And, there's no way you will finish worst than 1-7, a record inherited from your predecessor.

THERE IS ONE golfer's wife who's an anxious as we are to set the date for the annual City Championship Golf Tournament. She called last night and announced:

"My husband refuses to go on vacation until he learns when your tournament is going to be held, so please hurry up so that we take our vacation."

I promised the lady that we would come up with the pertinent data before Friday's edition.

So keep in touch.

A swimathon will be held at the swimming pool at the Knob on the Hill apartment complex in Belleville Aug. 12-16.

All area swimmers from 12 years old and up are invited to register at the Knob on the Hill clubhouse during the hours of 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. by calling the clubhouse at 697-4966 or Susie Candiello, program chairman, at 697-4073.

The proceeds of the swimathon which will be conducted during the hours of 3 to 7 p.m. will be used by the American Cancer Society, sponsors of the event.

With All-Star game

Huron winds up baseball season

There was plenty of action on the diamond and at the picnic tables as Huron Township wrapped up its summer baseball program.

The All-Stars teams consisted of two players from each of the other teams in the league. The results were: Bob's Produce winning All-Stars, 5-4; All-Stars winning Krzyske Lumber Indians, 15-1; All-Stars winning Pete Glaab Agency, 32-1; and Vena Excavating winning All-Stars, 20-6.

After the games were played, hot-dogs, chips, fritos and pop were available. Mary Grover then picked the winning numbers for the drawing. They were: First Prize: $100.00 went to Dorothy Akers; Second Prize: $50.00 went to Sam Farrugia; Third Prize: $25.00 went to Adolph Stolarz; and Fourth Prize: $25.00 went to Doris McCormach.

After the eating and the prizes the trophies were handed out by Mr. Whitley, president of the baseball program, and Mr. Bud Krause, Vice President. Thanks goes out to all the officers, coaches, parents, umpires and children for making this season a successful one.

The Huron Township Summer Baseball Champions are: Junior Girls - Peter Glaab Agency, Playing for this team were Mary Karen Doyle, Rhonda Duleki, Roxanne Duleki, Terry Cobb, Sally Farrugia, Toni Knight, Gina Miani, Susie Ducharme, Kara Rogell, Ann Rogell, Karen Beattie, Cindy Miseck, Jean Miseck, Cathy Scarborough and Kelly Pearson. They were coached by Jean Kolliver and Sue Gilenski.

Special congratulations, as this is the second year the team captured first place.

Senior Girls - Vena's Excavation: The members of the winning team were Bessie Gracia, Mary Lou Vena, Sherry McDonald, Marsha Floyd, Chris Whitley, Dawn Whitley, Sherrie Whitley, Bobby Jo Gwitt, Connie Gwitt, Kim Gibson, Sharon Teets, Cindy Rakotz, Debbie Sands, Kathleen McCormach, and Sue Gilenski.

They were coached to their fourth victory in a row by Bill Whitley and Ed Gwitt.

Boy's Pee Wee - Bob's Produce: picking up first place trophies the second year in a row were, Greg Summitt, Jim Klaes, Pete Klaes, Gary Iott, Larry Iott, John Lilly, Sam Farrugia, Ronald Cobb, David Glaab, James Delano. The team was coached by Robert Farrugia and Ron Delano.

Boy's Little League - Kr-

Paul Janas, Wayne State University junior baseball MVP and right-fielder, rated 27th in hitting in 1974 NCAA Division II rankings with a .397 average, playing in all 40 WSU games.

In 1973-74, Wayne State University awarded varsity letters to two brother-sister combinations with divers Traian and Dacia Schileru and golfers Chris and Janina Parrott claiming the monograms.

Auxiliary buys new camera

By SUE McDONALD
Of The Enterprise-Roman Staff

With spiraling hospital costs, $55,000 may not seem like much, but for doctors at the Peoples Community Hospital Authority's facility in Wayne, the money represents a new gamma camera for the Department of Nuclear Medicine. It also represents several years of hard work for members of the Ladies Auxiliary of Annapolis Hospital.

The volunteer group raised the money through its gift shop and cart, the sale of baby pictures and membership dues and presented a check for the $55,000 to Annapolis Hospital Administrator Walter Wheeler at a recent staff and employee tea.

THE DONATION is part of a continuing program by the auxiliary which annually presents the hospital with funds to purchase special equipment.

According to Ruth Long, director of the auxiliary's activities, the group's donation is unique in that all of the money given is earned through in-service activities. None of the funds are collected through charitable activities. The gamma camera, which will speed up diagnostic procedures at the hospital, is the largest endeavor the women have undertaken.

Since their formation 16 years ago, the group, through its financial donations, has helped outfit the hospital's chapel and chaplain's office; redecorated the pediatrics ward; helped purchase bedside monitors and close circuit television cameras for the cardiac care unit, and supplied funds for a heart catharization machine. THE VOLUNTEERS in total have presented the hospital with more than $160,000.

BBB uncovers suspicious deal

Mrs. Homemaker arrived at the store 45 minutes after it opened to take advantage of the advertised sale that she had seen in the paper that morning.

When she tried to find the bargain, however, there were no sale items to be found, and the salesperson told her that the product was sold out.

What did she do about the misleading advertising? Go home in a rage and complain to the neighbors? Scold the store manager for the misrepresentation?

IF SHE WAS smart, she called the Better Business Bureau.

The Better Business Bureau is "an organization of firms who believe in self-regulation," said Philip Laux, staff executive of the bureau that includes Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The self-policing agency consists of only a small percentage of the estimated 55,000 business in the 3-county area, but they take the responsibility of policing any and all firms and industries that they receive inquiries or complaints on.

Lois Jackson

dies at 91

Graveside services for a former Belleville resident, Mrs. Charles (Lois) Jackson, were held July 24 at London Cemetery with The Rev. Joy Arthur officiating.

Mrs. Jackson, who had been a resident at the Gilbert House in Ypsilanti for several years, died July 21 following a lengthy illness.

More than 80,000 firms on file at the bureau serving the Detroit metropolitan area. Of this number there is a "top 2,000" that are called about most, said Laux. These 2,000 firms are computerized so that checks on them can be made easily. Others are kept in files.

Every inquiry is recorded and if there are complaints and resolution of complaints, that information is recorded.

RESOLUTION 74-523

WHEREAS: The attention of the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Romulus has been called to the plight of Moses Wells, 5940 Washington, Romulus, Michigan, wherein it appears that said citizen and taxpayer may have been victimized by a violation of State Law, and;

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus is determined, within its capabilities of protecting its citizens from the alleged and fraudulent practice of others.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That Inspector Sullivan and/or any member of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department under his command designated to investigate fraudulent building practices by merchants within the City of Romulus, be directed to make a full and complete investigation on behalf of Mr. Moses Wells, and if, in fact, there is reasonable cause to believe that a violation of the Building Trust Fund Act of the State of Michigan may have occurred upon the signing of a Complaint by Mr. Moses Wells, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department is to take any and all action required to prosecute the offending party or parties involved.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the City Attorney is directed to investigate what measures may be taken to require payment and performance bonds of contractors licenses to do business in the City of Romulus to prevent such unfortunate situations from reoccurring.

WHEREAS: No anticipated utilization of said income has been communicated; and,

WHEREAS: The citizens of the State of Michigan, and certainly the City of Romulus, were led to believe at the inception of the Lottery that income would be utilized for educational purposes; and,

WHEREAS: School systems throughout the State of Michigan are being forced to curtail existing programs, while the educational needs of our students, of today, are increasing and expanding at an unprecedented rate; and,

WHEREAS: The ever-increasing cost of living mandates local government to impose more and more tax requirements upon its citizens to meet the demand for existing municipal service; and,

WHEREAS: School districts are required to petition the electorate for any additional funds; and,

WHEREAS: The burdens already placed upon the citizens of our State are presently beyond their means, they are refusing to appropriate funds throughout the State for any additional educational needs and/or services.

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That the City of Romulus implores, if not demands, that the Governor of the State of Michigan, the State Legislature, and the Administrators of the Bureau of State Lottery, direct the proceeds from said Lottery into the coffers of the Michigan State Board of Education and, subsequently, back to local school districts.

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED: That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the attention of the Governor of the State of Michigan, the Commissioner of the Michigan State Lottery, the Michigan State Board of Education, Congressman William D. Ford, State Senator William Faust, State Representatives Edward Mahalak and Gary Owen and to all surrounding communities, urging their support of this resolution.

One (1) parking space per Two hundred twenty-five (225) square feet of gross floor area, but no less than five (5) parking spaces.

Section 3. That Chapter IV, Article 1 Section 6.02 be amended to add as follows:

(34) INDOOR COMMERCIAL ESTABLISHMENTS INCLUDING GYMNASIUMS, TENNIS COURTS, HOCKEY RINKS, ETC.

One (1) parking space per Each three (3) persons allowed within the maximum occupancy load as established by the Fire Marshall, plus one (1) for each employee.

Section 4. That Chapter IV, Article 1, Section 4.34 be amended to read as follows:

4.34 PROHIBITED USES IN ALL RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS (except RMH)

a. Mobile homes, travel trailers, buses, converted buses, or boats in excess of twenty-four (24) feet in length, shall not be parked or stored in an open area for a period of more than forty-eight (48) hours except as provided in Section 4.34 (c), unless a permit has been issued by the Building Department. The location or area in which the unit is to be stored or parked shall be made a part of the permit. The Building Department shall review the request for a permit based upon potential affect upon adjacent properties, safety to buildings and potential impact upon pedestrians or vehicular traffic. Said permit shall be valid for a period not to exceed ten (10) consecutive days out of ninety (90) days and shall be conspicuously posted on the parked or stored vehicle or boat.

b. Commercial highway trailers and commercial vehicles with a rated capacity greater than 1½ tons shall not be parked or stored on residentially zoned property at any time.

c. Travel trailers and similar recreation vehicles, (24 foot or less) may be stored or parked on any lot or parcel in any RIA or RIB residential district subject to the following requirements:

1. Travel trailers parked or stored shall not have a fixed connection to electricity, water, gas, or a sanitary sewer, and at no time shall such equipment be used for living, sleeping, or housekeeping purposes.

2. Any recreational vehicle not parked or stored in a garage shall be parked or stored in the rear yard, except that such vehicles may occupy a side yard provided that the minimum required side yard shall be maintained from the vehicle to the side lot line; and except that such vehicles may occupy a side or front yard for a period not to exceed forty-eight (48) hours, for loading and unloading purposes, so long as such location does not obstruct the view of driveways or vehicular and pedestrian traffic of adjoining properties.

3. No more than two (2) recreation vehicles shall be stored or parked on a single residential lot or parcel of land.

4. Parking or storage of travel trailers, boats and other recreational vehicles in the rear or side yard open space shall be done in such a manner that no portion of the vehicle shall be closer than 5 feet to the nearest house.

5. Recreation vehicles must be stored or parked in such a manner that they do not create an unsafe or dangerous condition.

d. In the case of multiple-family complexes and mobile home parks, the Planning Commission, after site plan review, may require a screened area in addition to required off-street parking spaces, for the parking or storage of travel trails, boats or other recreation vehicles upon the site.

Section 5. That Chapter IV, Article 1, Section 15.03 be amended to add as follows:

c. Outdoor storage of mobile homes, travel trailers, boats, snowmobiles and other recreational vehicles subject to the following regulations:

1. The minimum area of the site exclusive of buildings shall be one acre (43,560 square feet).

2. The minimum area of the site
2. The minimum street frontage shall be one hundred (100 feet) feet.

3. There shall be provided around the sides and rear of the site (except along sides of premises enclosed by buildings) a fence or wall a minimum of six (6) feet in height in order to intercept windblown trash and other debris.

4. A decorative wall (as regulated in Section 4.28) shall be provided along the building setback lines. Wherever possible, the storage area shall be screened from view along the public street or road.

5. Off-street parking areas and aisles, as required under Section 6, shall be paved in accordance with the requirements of Section 6.02 unless an acceptable substitute is approved by the Board of Appeals.

6. Lighting shall be installed in a manner which will not create a driving hazard on abutting streets or which will cause direct illumination on adjacent properties.

7. The property shall be kept and maintained in a neat, clean and orderly manner.

8. Before approval is given for any use, a site plan shall be first submitted to the Planning Commission for review as to suitability of location of entrances and exits to the site, parking areas, fencing, lighting, and other design features.

Section 6. The effective date of the above described amendments shall be the date of publication in the official newspaper.

County's candidates supporting sheriff patrols

The three active candidates seeking the Democratic nomination for the Wayne County 27th Commissioner District agree that the county should continue to provide the township with the services of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol officers.

The incumbent, Brian G. Arrowsmith, and his challengers, Royce Smith and Joseph C. Bonucci, have said that townships need protection from sheriff's officers and that cities have no right to complain about paying for sheriff's protection.

"Cities often forget that they enjoyed protection of the sheriff's road patrol before they were incorporated," Arrowsmith said. TOWNSHIPS IN Wayne County face an Aug. 31 cutoff of sheriff's protection unless the Wayne County Board of Commissioners has a change of heart. The commissioners two years ago started to pare down sheriff's protection in an effort to save funds. "I'm concerned about continually increasing taxes and fewer services for those taxes," Smith said.

ALL THREE candidates admitted they would hold one of 27 votes on the commission, and that the vote may not be enough to sway the panel's thinking on the removal of service.

10. "Treasurer" shall mean the duly appointed and acting Treasurer of the City.

Section 2.00. License Required. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or cause to be operated or to carry on in the City any of the business activities of an exhibitor or any mechanical amusement device without first having obtained a license as an exhibitor and for each such piece of equipment, in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate as a distributor or cause to be operated or carry on in the City any of the business activities of a distributor without first having obtained a license as such distributor.

Any person in the City displaying for public patronage or keeping for operation any mechanical amusement device as an exhibitor as hereinafter defined shall obtain licenses for all of such equipment prior to such displaying or operation, and any person distributing or owning as a distributor or exhibitor any such mechanical amusement device in the City shall be required to obtain a license prior to carrying on such activities as herein set forth.

Section 3.00. Gambling Devices Not Permitted. Nothing in this Ordinance shall in any way be construed to authorize license or permit any gambling devices whatsoever, or any mechanism that has been judicially determined to be a gambling device, or in any way contrary to law.

Section 4.00. Application for License. Application for license shall be made to the City Clerk only in the name of the prospective licensee upon a form to be supplied by the Clerk for the purpose, and shall contain among other things the following information:

01. The name and address of the prospective licensee if an individual together with the date and place of birth, if a co-partnership, the names and residences addresses of such co-partners and their respective dates and places of birth; of a corporation or voluntary association, the names and addresses of the several officers and resident agent thereof, and their respective dates and places of birth.

02. Kind of a License being applied for, whether as a distributor or as an exhibitor, or for one or more pieces of equipment.

03. List prior convictions for violations of any ordinances or statutes of any kind by the applicant if an individual by any of the co-partners if a co-partnership, or by the officers if a corporation, setting forth the name of the Court, the charge, and the date of conviction, if any.

04. If an exhibitor, state each place where a machine or device is to be displayed or operated, and the type of business conducted at such place, the name and description of each machine to be licensed, and description of each machine to be licensed, together with the name of the manufacturer and the serial number of each piece of equipment to be licensed.

05. If a distributor, state the address from which licensee's business is conducted, and type of business, whether rentals, or sales of juke boxes or mechanical amusement devices, or both, and setting forth the name and or names of the manufacturers of said equipment.

06. If an exhibitor, state whether the equipment is owned by the applicant, rented, or being purchased on contract. If rented show name of owner, and if being purchased on contract or is owned by exhibitor, show name and address of seller.

07. Set forth any other information requested by City Clerk.

08. Application must be sworn to by person signing it.

09. If the person signing application does so in representative capacity, show what that capacity is.

No license shall be issued to any applicant unless he shall be over eighteen (18) years of age and a citizen of the United States: Provided, however, that all copartners and officers of a corporation or voluntary association shall likewise be eighteen (18) years of age and shall be a citizen of the United States, proof of citizenship to be made either by birth certificate or by naturalization papers.

10. An inspection fee of $50.00 dollars shall be paid with the application, which fee shall be an addition to the license fee hereinafter provided.

Section 5.00. Approval of Application. Every application for license shall be referred to the department hereinafter set forth for investigation and approval thereof before the license can be issued.

The Police Department shall investigate the location wherein it is proposed to operate such machine or business ascertain if the application is a law-abiding citizen, and determine that the business to be conducted at the place where the equipment to be licensed will be located is legitimate. If after such investigation, it shall be determined that all of these requirements have been complied with, such application shall be approved by such department.

The Electrical Inspector shall inspect and determine that all electric wiring and connections which are to be used in the installation of such equipment being licensed to exhibitors as herein defined, comply with the requirements of the Electrical Code of the City, and if after such investigation the Electrical Inspector shall determine that the provisions of the Electrical Code has been complied with at such location, he shall approve such application.

The Building Inspector shall inspect the premises and determine that all provisions of the Building Code and other applicable Building Ordinance are fully complied with and if after such investigation, the Electrical Inspector shall determine that the provisions of the Building Code and other applicable Ordinances of the City have been complied with, he shall approve such application.

No license shall be issued to any applicant unless approved by the several departments hereinabove set forth.

Section 6.00. Payment of Personal Property Taxes. No license or renewal thereof shall be issued to any person under the within Ordinance unless and until a certificate has been obtained from the Treasurer to the effect that all personal property taxes levied and assessed against any such applicant for license have been paid in full.

Section 7.00. Enforcing Officers. The Police Department, Fire Department, Electrical Inspector and Building Inspector are hereby authorized and empowered to perform the duties herein set forth and to enforce the provisions of the Ordinance.

Section 8.00. License Not Transferable: Expiration. Every license issued under the provisions of this Ordinance shall cover but one person and one piece of equipment required by this Ordinance to be licensed or either of them, and appropriate licenses shall be obtained by the purchaser, transferee, lessee, or assignee each time a piece of equipment required by this Ordinance to be licensed is sold, transferred, leased or assigned in the City, provided, however, a distributor or an exhibitor may move from one street address to another any piece of equipment required under this Ordinance to be licensed if the ownership of such equipment continues in the licensee and if such notice of removal is given to the Clerk.

Every such valid license shall expire at midnight on the 31st day of December, of each year unless terminated prior to such date by operation of law.

Section 9.00. Licenses. Issuance. Unless otherwise specified in this Ordinance, all licenses covered by the terms hereof shall be issued by the Clerk upon the payment to the Treasurer of the prescribed fee and approval of the application for license by the Police Department, Fire Department, Building Inspector and Electrical Inspector.

Section 10.00. License Fees. The following license fees shall be paid to the City Treasurer annual at the time the application for or renewal of licensee is applied for in the following amounts:

Distributor's License $100.00
Exhibitor's License $500.00

Mechanical Amusement Device License $50.00 per machine per annum

The foregoing fees are payable in like amount for the renewal of each of the foregoing licenses upon the filing of proper application therefor. After any of such fees have been paid no refunds will be payable to the applicant. All licenses shall be issued for one (1) year, or less, and shall expire on December 1st of each year. There shall be no pro ration of license fees.

Section 11.00. Display of License. The license or licenses herein provided for persons shall be posted conspicuously on the wall inside and near the front entrance to such person's place of business.

Every piece of licensed equipment shall contain thereon legible identifying data such as the name and address of the distributor if the device is not owned by the exhibitor, the manufacturer's name, the kind of device being licensed and the serial number thereof, the date of issuance and date of license expiration; which identifying data shall be permanently fixed on a sticker and placed in a conspicuous place on each piece of equipment required by the provisions of this Ordinance to be licensed. The issuance of license, but if any of said stickers are mutilated or lost, they may be reissued by the Clerk for the sum of $1.00 for each sticker required.

It shall be unlawful for any person to change or alter or remove the identifying data on any equipment required under the provisions of this Ordinance to be licensed after such equipment has been located in and while it is licensed by the City.

Section 12.00. Unlawful to Place or Operate Until Licensed. It shall be unlawful for any distributor to place or for any exhibitor to operate or maintain any juke box or mechanical amusement device in any store, building or establishment until all licenses required under the provisions of this Ordinance have been issued and all license fees paid.

Section 13.00. Unlawful to Give Prizes. It shall be unlawful for any person by himself or another to give any prize, award, merchandise, gift or anything of value to any player, or to any operator of any mechanical amusement device, or to any contestant for a high score made thereon.

Section 14.00. Unlawful to Operate Machine Which Pays Off. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or maintain any mechanical amusement device which is so constructed that it may be converted into an automatic pay-off device which would discharge coins, slugs, checks or other tokens to the players or such machine, and no license for any such machine shall be issued under this Ordinance.

Section 15.00. Obscene Amusement Prohibited. No mechanical amusement device regulated by this Ordinance shall display, expose, produce or emit, any motion or still picture, printed matter, advertisement, writing, music, song or other amusement that is obscene, indecent, or contrary to good morals. The Police Department is directed to enforce the provisions of this section.

Section 16.00. Penalty. Any person who shall be convicted of violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed $500.00 or by imprisonment not to exceed ninety (90) days, or both in the discretion of the Court. Each day a violation continues shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 17.00. Saving Clause. If any clause, sentence, paragraph or part of this Ordinance shall for any reason be adjudged or decreed to be invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such judgment or decree shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this Ordinance, but such remainder shall continue in full force and effect as though such invalid portion has not been adopted.

Section 18.00. Repeal. All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances inconsistent with the foregoing Ordinance be and they are hereby repealed and rescinded.

Section 19.00. Immediate Effect. The provision of this Ordinance shall take effect 30 days after publication thereof.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an Ordinance adopted at the Regular Meeting of the Romulus City Council held on July 9, 1974.

Ford markets small car

Ford Motor Co.'s new offering in the luxury small-car market, the Granada, was introduced this afternoon.

Available in 2-door and 4-door models, the Granada may be manufactured in the Ford Motor Co. Wayne Assembly plant at the start of the 1975 model year.

The new economy offering has the same interior dimensions as the Mercedes

Auto roundup

280 sedan, and offers many of the same comfort components as the German car.

"The Granada is a new concept for an American car," said Bennett E. Bidwell, Ford vice-president and Ford Division general manager. "It is neither a small car nor a big car."

"The number one priority in designing Granada was efficiency. Like the finest European sedans, it has ample interior roominess, but the exterior dimensions are surprisingly trim."

The auto will come with two 6-cylinder engines, including the large 250 cubic inch "six" and a smaller 200 cubic inch engine.

Also included will be a 19.5-gallon fuel tank which will allow the car extended driving range.

In addition, the car will offer two "V-8" engines including an economy 302 cubic inch model and a larger 351 cubic inch model.

THE LINCOLN-Mercury Division of Ford yesterday introduced the new Mercury Monarch, which combines the same dimensions as the Granada with Mercury styling.

The Monarch is smaller than the Mercury Montego, the firm's mid-size offering, but larger than the Mercury Comet.

FORD ALSO has announced that prices on its 1975-model cars will be increased. Ford revealed that prices may rise as much as eight per cent. The increases would range from $200 to $500 per vehicle, with an average of $420.

The increases are designed to offset rising material costs.

GENERAL MOTORS Corp. (GM) had some good news for workers in its Fairfax Assembly Plant near Kansas City, Kan.

G. E. Carr, manager of the plant, has called back more than 2,000 employees who had been placed on indefinite layoff since late January.

Fairfax produces Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs.

Class offers speech

The Romulus Jaycees will offer a leadership and speak-up course this fall, to increase a person's ability to speak in public and coordinate and lead various projects.

"The course is designed and instructed from the young man's role in today's business society," said Jaycee President Phil McNett. "The participant will be able to earn actual experience by speaking at meetings and social events once the course is completed."

He said leadership abilities will be tested when the participants are given an opportunity to lead projects of their choice.

"These course are one of the best opportunities around for young men who desire to increase their leadership and speaking abilities," McNett added.

Cost of the course is $21. Interested persons should call McNett at 941-7891 for enrollment information.

NEW DOOR INSTALLATION — One of many new doors replaced in some of the vandalized homes repossessed by HUD in the Van Buren Estates Subdivision in Van Buren Township gets an inspection from Township Treasurer Ralph Hedman. Some 19 homes are under renovation by private general contractors retained by HUD under contract. The vacant homes will be put back on the market by HUD when renovation is completed. — Enterprise-Roman photo.

HCMA awards contracts on development s at parks

The board of commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, (HCMA) has awarded two contracts for construction projects at two Metropark sites in Wayne County.

A contract for $249,567.26 has been awarded to J. D. Armstrong Landscape Co. of Fraser, for construction of concrete walks, plaza area, site grading and turfing at the special activities area in Willow Metropark near New Boston.

The cost of the contract is shared by the HCMA and State Recreational Bond Funds, administered by the state Department of Natural Resources.

When completed, the more than $1.8 million special activities site will include a bathhouse, swimming pool, food service, dance area, court games, tot lot and other recreational facilities. The area is scheduled to open in 1975.

Willow Metropark, a 1,500-acre site, was opened in 1970. It has facilities for picnic-playground use, scenic drives, color in the fall and hills for winter sports.

A contract for $16,326.00 also was awarded to Merit Electric Inc. of Royal Oak to install area lighting along the parking lots and walks at the entrance to the Nature Center Building now under construction at Oakwoods Metropark, a 1,700-acre site, scheduled to open in 1975.

HCMA maintains 10 park sites in the counties of Wayne, Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw.

Dance gets funds for 'The Number'

A capacity crowd of Belleville area young people attended a dance held at the Van Buren Township Hall under the auspices of the Number Youth Activity Committee.

The dance, the first such recreational activity in the new township hall, was held last Friday. More than 200 teens attended the event and danced to the music of "Mugsy," a five piece musical group.

Sponsoring officials said that dance was a successful affair both in attendance and participation.

Van Buren Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer commended those attending for their behavior and clean-up operations.

The proceeds of the $1-per-person dance will be used toward "The Number," Belleville's crisis-counseling center and the Youth Activity Committee.

Brochure spotlights camp sites

A new travel brochure, spotlighting Michigan's best municipal, county, state and private parks, recently was issued by the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association (SMTTA).

Fuel conservation-minded motorists can find nearby locations for such activities as camping, fishing, boating, and swimming as well as learn where to find the best places to buy camping equipment.

The folder is free and Western Wayne County residents can obtain a copy by contacting the SMTTA at 1200 Sixth St., Detroit 48226, in care of the State Office Building.

Township approves roofing bid

A re-roofing program, involving three Van Buren Township properties, has been completed at a cost of $1,240.

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees recently approved a bid, submitted by Tom's Roofing and Siding Co. of Plymouth to re-roof Fire Hall No. 1, situated in the central business section of Belleville, as well as the township office at 46425 Tyler Rd.

The trustees also authorized re-advertising for bids on the purchase of a chassis for one of the township's rubbish trucks.

Residents sponsor fun fest

The 24th Annual Augusta Homecoming, held under the auspices of the Augusta Township Firemen and Ladies Auxiliary, will be held on Saturday.

Festivities will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The homecoming will be held on Whitaker Road behind the local post office. Rides, games, entertainment and booths will be part of the activities.

The 75-cent ticket donation entitles the purchaser to ice cream and cake and entry to the prize drawings to be held during the evening hours.

☒ Ballot No. 714

Do you think I should let Judy get into a mess like this?

You have to know Judy. She's special . . . and I'm not saying that just because she's my wife . . . a lot of people think so. She's pretty and a great mother to our four kids. and all those good things.

But there's something extra . . . she really gets a big kick out of helping people. It started a long time ago.

She always wanted to be a lawyer, ever since she was a little girl. About a dozen years ago she got her degree and she hasn't stopped helping people since.

Five years ago she found herself really involved in Juvenile Court. The court appointed her to defend kids and families in trouble . . . kids who had no homes, and that sort of thing. I've seen her in court on five different cases in one day.

I knew she loved what she was doing . . . but she'd get angry too. Angry at all the things that are wrong. Judy complained about people who weren't getting a decent break. how the court was hampered by archaic laws, and how many decisions didn't really do any good.

She said: "Last year there were more than 8,000 kids in Juvenile Court and there was only one Probate Judge to oversee the whole thing." Then she'd get discouraged because half the delinquent kids who were sentenced were right back in court, most within a year.

Some of the stories she tells are really ugly. Recently the Wayne County Commissioners voted to pay the salary of two additional Probate Judges and assign them to Juvenile. Judy says that will help a lot . . . if we can get the right kind of judges. She got so enthusiastic about it, she decided to run.

What would you do? Sure. I encouraged her and helped her, and the whole family pitched in to get her elected.

Why? Well I know she will make a great judge, and she's one of the most qualified of any of the people running. In fact, she's one of only six candidates who has had experience with the Juvenile Court. Four of 'em just want to be a judge . . . and that's not Judy's style at all.

So I'm asking you . . . do you think Judy should get in this mess? You can tell me on August 6th, that's when the primary is held. If you want Judy to help these people . . . and they really do need help . . . then look at the bottom of the ballot under "Probate Judges" and put an X before her name . . . JUDITH STEFANI SABLES.

I'm going to vote for her and I'll tell you why. One day when she was telling me about some of the things going on, and how she wants to change them. I said: "Hey, you can't change the world." And she said: "No, but I think I can save some kids!"

And she will too!

Thanks.

SEVEN BRIDES — Often referred to as the most energetic musical ever made, MGM's "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" is just one of the scores of films from the golden age of musicals represented in the United Artists film, "That's Entertainment!"

"That's Entertainment!"

Film stars show flip side in revue

Clark Gable, James Stewart, Cary Grant and Robert Montgomery were among Hollywood's most popular and admired serious screen actors, and are all well-known for their dramatic acting ability.

But not many film fans realize that each of these leading men did his bit as a musical performer. And that's what United Artists' "That's Entertainment!" is all about. Written, produced and directed by Jack Haley Jr. with Daniel Melnick as executive producer, "That's Entertainment!" is a compilation of musical highlights from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer (MGM) golden age of movie musicals.

SUCH UNEXPECTED moments as Clark Gable stepping out and singing for Norma Shearer in "Idiot's Delight" in 1939; Cary Grant singing "Did I Remember" to Jean Harlow in the 1936 release "Suzy"; and James Stewart crooning to Eleanor Powell that she was so "Easy to Love" in 1936, "Born to Dance" are all part of the film detailing MGM's music era.

"That's Entertainment!" is narrated by such names as Fred Astaire, Bing Crosby, Gene Kelly, Peter Lawford, Liza Minelli, Donald O'Connor, Debbie Reynolds, Mickey Rooney, Frank Sinatra, Elizabeth Taylor and Jimmy Stewart.

Stewart discussed the advent of sound, a frightening innovation to many of Hollywood's actors and actresses, as part of his presentation in the two-and-a-half hour film.

"Rin Tin Tin was the only actor that wasn't worried," Stewart said. "He figured as long as he could bark, he was safe."

In describing his singing debut in the film, Stewart drawled: "The studio was going to use another voice, but they figured the song was so good even I couldn't hurt it!"

Now showing in an exclusive engagement at the Northland Theater in Detroit's Northland Center, "That's Entertainment!" recaptures all those memories of the days when "those good movies that they don't make anymore" were made.

Ypsilanti theater features satirists

The pleasure of sipping such unusual drinks as the "Social Insecurity" while enjoying slapstick skits dealing with current events can be experienced for the next three weekends at the Huron Dinner Theater in Ypsilanti.

Situated in the Huron Hotel, the theater now is featuring "The American Shaft," a series of sketches that lead the viewer through the politics, culture and various social afflictions of 20th century man.

The show features The American Shaft Company, a group of satirists, and is presented twice nightly on

Fair has loads of talent for every kind of taste

Entertainment of every form, fashion and genre can be found this year at the 1974 Michigan State Fair, Aug. 23 through Labor Day, Sept. 2.

Whether you're looking for country or comedy, pop or piano, blues or brass, or soul and sounds from the 1950s and 1960s, you'll find it all in the free entertainment offered as part of the annual state-wide event.

Nine top performers, two auto thrill shows, horseracing, circus events and the usual livestock judging shows will assure plenty of family fun this year.

MUSICAL entertainment by top stars will be provided free, twice daily at 4:30 and 8:30 p.m. in the bandshell. The auto thrill shows and circus will also be presented free at 2 and 7 p.m. at the grandstand.

Included in the schedule of events are: Seals and Crofts, the popular singing duo who weave a mixture of musical modes evoking a variety of emotions. Riding their current crest of popularity, they will appear Aug. 23 at the fairgrounds.

Charlie Rich, the extremely popular blues-turned-country singer whose million-selling "Behind Closed Doors" and "The Mose Beautiful Girl" have made him big on the country scene today, will appear Aug. 24 in two free shows at the bandshell.

PAT BOONE and Family will appear for two days, Aug. 25 and 26. One of the top three recording artists during the "rock-and-roll" 1950s, Boone will be joined by his wife and four daughters in performances this year.

The Chi-Lites who gained popularity with their million-selling records "Have You Seen Her" and "Oh Girl," Lites at the group's performances.

A legend of the music world, Ray Charles, will appear in free performance on Aug. 30.

Purchases get financing

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has rescinded previous action and agreed to assist in financing the purchase cost of some equipment for the Fred C. Fisher Library in Belleville.

The decision was made at the board's recent meeting following a presentation of the library's finances for Leo T. Dinnan, systems director of the Wayne County Federated Libraries.

Previously, a request from the library system seeking trustees' approval of $465.64 in additional funds for the purchase of two book trucks and two shelving units for the Belleville library was denied. County officials had recommended the purchase.

TRUSTEE STEPHEN J. Kuchta at that time moved to deny the request, saying that he felt the library should try to adjust its budget to cover the additional costs. He was supported by Trustee Darwin Kureth and the motion was approved.

Following Dinnan's presentation at last week's trustees' meeting, Dominick W. Blend moved to rescind the denial and approve the request for additional funds. He was supported by Township Treasurer Ralph E. Hedman. Kuchta was absent and did not vote on the motion which was approved by the township board.

Besides Van Buren Township, the City of Belleville and Sumpter Township held support the operation of the Belleville-located library. The supporting financial share is based on percentage of use.

On all coaches

SEMTA switches to exact fare

Buses of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) have been switched to using an "exact fare" system.

Residents of the area who may be using the SEMTA shuttles on Michigan Avenue, Ford, Warren, Wayne, Mid-debent and Inkster roads will be asked to deposit the exact fare needed for their trip. Bus drivers will no longer carry change.

For those who do not wish to carry a pocketfull of coins to meet the exact fare requirements, several area banks are selling exact fare tickets.

Detroit Bank and Trust Co. has opened its Wayne-Warren branch for the sale of the tickets.

The National Bank of Detroit will offer the tickets at its Wayne, North Wayne, Garden City, Inkster, Ford, Wayne, Cherry Hill, Merriman, Wayne-Palmer and Merriman-Warren branch offices.

Manufacturers National Bank will offer the tickets at its Cherry Hill-Inkster, Wayne-Warren, Wayne-Canyon Drive, Joy-Oxbow and Westland Center offices.

Tickets will be available in 25-cent, 10-cent and 5-cent denominations, as well as values ranging from 45-cents to $1.05.

The more expensive tickets are equal to the exact fares for riders using the various SEMTA lines.

Beach has swim facilities

At Stony Creek Metropark both Baypoint and Eastwood Beach sites accommodate swimmers from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily through Labor Day, but only when lifeguards are on duty.

These sites have beachhouses with food bars, dressing rooms, heated showers, clothes and valuables checking in coin-operated lockers, sanitary and first aid facilities. There are no picnic tables at the beaches.
